Sloan Brothers Hold Offices in State Group Meeting Here

Donald E. Sloan of Marion and Edward N. Sloan of Columbus, brothers, are among the top officers of the Ohio Association of Cemetery Superintendents and Officials, which today concluded its 44th annual convention at Hotel Harding.

Donald E., second vice president of the association, is superintendent of Marion cemetery, and Edward N., the association's secretary-treasurer, is a former Marion superintendent. Preceding them their father, the late Edward A. Sloan, was the superintendent here, serving from 1907 to 1931.

Edward N. succeeded his father to the office of secretary-treasurer in the state group after the latter's death in 1931. Donald was elected second vice president last year.

Edward last year was president of the National Association of Cemetery Superintendents.

Edward was born at Woodland cemetery in Ironton, O., where his father was superintendent before coming to Marion in 1907 and Donald was born in the house in which he still lives, on the grounds of Marion cemetery.

Their grandfather was superintendent of the cemetery at Ironton and their father succeeded him after his death.

Following E. A. Sloan's death in 1931 his son, Edward N., became superintendent in Marion and when he left in 1938, Donald took over. Edward is now superintendent of Greenlawn cemetery in Columbus.

An uncle of the Sloan brothers is superintendent of Todd Homestead cemetery in Youngstown and his son is attending the meeting here.

Edward has a daughter and Donald has two sons attending Ohio State university, one of whom may decide to carry out the family traditional calling to the fourth generation.

Henry E. Schulte, superintendent of St. Mary's cemetery of St. Bernard, O., was elected president of the Ohio Association of Cemetery Superintendents and Officials this morning at Hotel Harding, succeeding William Keller, superintendent of Oakwood cemetery of Fremont. The term is for one year. Mr. Schulte formerly was first vice president.

Other officers elected are Donald E. Sloan, of Marion cemetery, first vice president; Thomas J. Murphy, attorney for Calvary cemetery of Cleveland, second vice president; and Harry Mueller of Cincinnati Walnut Hills cemetery, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Sloan was formerly second vice president.

Edward N. Sloan, superintendent of Green Lawn cemetery of Columbus, former secretary-treasurer, did not run for reelection.

The election marked the closing of the three-day convention, 45th in the association's history. The convention adjourned shortly before noon.

Earlier in the morning a memorial service was held for members who died during the last year. Fred Benner of Vine Street Hill cemetery of Cincinnati officiated.

An address, "Grass Research," was given by Clifford Runyan of Spring Grove cemetery of Cincinnati.

Location of next year's convention will be decided by the executive committee next summer.

Removal of Lima's Police Chief Asked

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., Oct. 23—A special committee of the Lima city council yesterday recommended that Mayor W. L. Ferguson remove Kermit L. Westbay as chief of police, alleging that he was guilty of incompetency, inefficiency and neglect of duty.

An investigation of the police department began last April. The committee also recommended that the mayor seek to increase the police department's efficiency.

Mayor Ferguson had no immediate comment. Police chief Westbay also withheld comment.

LEWIS STEPS UP TEMPO OF HIS DEMANDS

Sends Nov. 1 Deadline Ultimatum to Interior Secretary Krug.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—John L. Lewis stepped up the tempo of his attack for fresh wage concessions from the federally operated soft coal industry today, whipping out a sharp new ultimatum to Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug.

In typically crisp sentences, Lewis told Krug to meet him in Washington on Nov. 1—and no later—or face a walkout by Lewis' 400,000 soft coal miners 20 days earlier than the Nov. 20 deadline set previously.

The 66-year-old boss of the AFL United Mine Workers union thus underscored his demand that Krug reopen the whole question of wages, hours and other matters involved in the Lewis-Krug agreement which followed the government's seizure of the pits last May 22.

Meanwhile, labor experts looked for possible repercussions from this pre-winter controversy which could affect Pennsylvania's 75,000 hard coal miners. Almost the entire hard coal output goes into heating homes and buildings.

Similar Demands Seen

If Lewis is successful in his demand for renewing wage negotiations for soft coal miners, similar demands may be expected of the hard coal producers—and Lewis can open his hard coal contract on 10 days' notice.

The hard coal producers signed an agreement with Lewis last June almost paralleling the Krug-Lewis contract for the soft coal miners.

Lewis yesterday toughened the terms of his challenge to the government on the grounds of alleged "breach of contract."

Krug, off on an extended tour through the southwest, said Lewis could meet him at Tula Lake, Calif., if the MW chief insisted on a conference Nov. 1. Otherwise, Krug said his engagements, arranged weeks ago, would prevent him from returning to Washington until after Nov. 6.

Lewis Has Fast Answer

To that proposal, Lewis had a fast answer:

"The existing Krug-Lewis agreement expressly provides that both parties to the agreement are bound to meet within a 10-day period upon formal request."

Such a formal request, he said in a telegram to Krug, was filed Monday. And then the ultimatum:

"Failure on your part to honor this "November" meeting will constitute another breach of contract and will void the Krug-Lewis agreement."

The background for today's seeming deadlock was set by Lewis on Monday when the UMW boss sought the Nov. 1 conference as a possible prelude toward ending the present agreement in 30 days, or on Nov. 20.

Provision Contained

The old contract with the mine owners, which Lewis broke off last March 31, had contained a provision for ending it by giving 10 days advance notice, followed by 15 days of negotiation, then five days' notice of intention to terminate the agreement.

However, Krug and Capt. L. H. Collisson, federal coal mines administrator, both countered that the Krug-Lewis agreement of May 29 was for the duration of government operation and could not be reopened without mutual consent. This, they said, was clearly stipulated in the contract.

Tension Rises On Major U. S. Labor Fronts

Coal and Telegraph Walkouts Loom as Other Disputes Deadlock.

By The Associated Press

Tension appeared mounting on the nation's industrial front today.

Major developments were

The possibility of a shutdown of soft coal mines on Nov. 1; the threat of a work stoppage by 7,000 Western Union employes in New York cutting off the metropolis from virtually all telegraphic communication with the rest of the country; a possible new airline strike early next year; the continued tieup of nearly all shipping, and unsuccessful efforts to end many work stoppages.

In the spotlight on the labor front was John L. Lewis, president of the AFL United Mine Workers, who issued a sharp new ultimatum to Secretary of Interior Krug in the wake of his demands for reopening wage negotiations. The UMW chief told Krug to meet him in Washington on Nov. 1, and failure to do so would mean a work stoppage by 400,000 soft coal miners.

Krug, in the southwest on an extended tour, had suggested a meeting in California on Nov. 1 or in Washington Nov. 6, but Lewis held to his demand for a Washington conference on Nov. 1. The interior secretary in Carlsbad, N. M., did not comment on Lewis' telegram which in effect said the miners would walk out if Krug fails to take up his new demands on wages, hours and other issues on Nov. 1.

Hold Contract Validated

Navy Capt. N. H. Collisson, federal coal mines administrator, and Krug both said the Krug-Lewis agreement of last May 29 was for the duration of government operation and could not be reopened without mutual consent.

As 1,400 Trans-World Airline pilots remained on strike in a wage dispute, a similar controversy, involving pilots of two engine American Airlines, Inc., planes came before the national mediation board after the company and the AFL Air Line Pilots association failed to agree on terms.

There was no indication of immediate settlement of the three-day old strike by the TWA

METAL PRODUCTS CO. LABOR DISPUTE ENDS

Contract Agreement Reached by Company and Union.

A labor dispute which stopped production at the Marion Metal Products Co. plant on Cheney avenue last Thursday when 250 members of the International Association of Machinists walked away from their jobs, was settled today and work at the plant will be resumed tomorrow.

Settlement of the dispute, which involved the renewal of a union contract, came this morning at a joint meeting of union and company officials. In a joint statement issued following the meeting, company and union officials said: "The union committee and management have agreed on all parts of the contract and work will resume Thursday morning, Oct. 24, for all people who report."

Another meeting of union and company officials is scheduled for late this afternoon, when minor details of the contract are expected to be discussed.

During the five-day walkout union and company officials have had several meetings in an attempt to work out an agreement on the contract terms. There have been no pickets around the plant and office and non-union employes have continued to work. No attempt has been made by union members to enter the building.

The union men left work last Wednesday when they said, company representatives did not meet with the union committee regarding renewal of the contract.

Half-Car Mystery Puzzles Railroad

WARREN, O., Oct. 23—What happened to the rest of an automobile after a passenger train sheared off its trunk, rear bumber and license plate at a crossing here, troubled Erie railroad officials today. Trainmen could find no trace of the car after the locomotive ground to a stop, but police said the license plate was issued to a man in nearby Leavittsburg.

DRIVE WORKERS ON JOB TODAY

Press Campaign for First Report Meeting Thursday Night.

Workers in the Marion Community Foundation's annual financial campaign are ringing doorbells and contacting executives, professional and business offices and shops in anticipation of their first report meeting set for Thursday night at the Masonic temple. The campaign to raise $67,190 to finance the work of national and local agencies making up the foundation through 1947, got under way Monday night. Report meetings will be streamlined this year, with only two scheduled, one Thursday night and the final one for Wednesday Oct. 30.

Cooperating in the drive are workers in the rural communities where citizens are primarily interested in the two national service organizations the USO and the United Seamen's Service, and the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Early indorsers of the campaign cludes the Marion Central Labor Union the members of which voted unanimously to support the project in a meeting last night.

E. G. Siefert is chairman of the work in the rural communities where he is being assisted by local workers. A partial list of chairmen follows: Mrs. William Guthery, LaRue; Harry Gast, Prospect; Lloyd Meredith, New Bloomington; C. E. Baseler, Pleasant; Charlton Myers, Morral; Mrs. Donald Cookston, Meeker; J. B. Porter, Green Camp; Archie Reynolds, Waldo; H. Clay Smith, Claridon; H. O. Thompson, Caledonia and Martel.

The rural areas are interested in the drive through a number of the participating agencies.

The work of the Boy Scouts extends into the rural communities where troops have been organized and the expansion work of the Girl Scouts into the rural communities depends in a large measure upon the success of the current drive, the workers point out. Services of the USO and the Seamen's Service bureau are a source of comfort and provide entertainment for the thousands of men still serving in the armed forces and in many areas are the only home ties provided, reports from these centers show.

"El" Smashup Injures 270

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 23—Between 240 and 270 persons bound for work were injured today, about 10 seriously, when an elevated express train rammed the rear of another during heavy fog.

The crash occurred during the morning rush hour at the 47th street station on the south side. Both trains were derailed but were in no danger of falling to the street.

From 1,300 to 1,500 passengers were on the two trains. Police reported many of them crowded the station platform, delaying removal of the injured.

Crowd Hampers Firemen

So jammed with milling, confused passengers was the platform and its stairway that firemen used hook and ladder equipment to climb the structure.

TEN BURN TO DEATH IN FIRE

Mother, Eight Children and Grandchild Perish in Connecticut Blaze.

By The Associated Press

EAST HAMPTON, Conn., Oct. 23—A mother, her eight children and her infant granddaughter perished today in a fire which swept through their Lake Pocotopaug home.

State police identified the dead as:

Mrs. Edward Nelson, 40; Mrs. Betty Yeltema, 23; Mrs. Mary Kelvin Hall, 19; Rita Clark, 17; Edith Nelson, 15; Christina Nelson, 14; Chaplin Nelson, 12; Charles Nelson, 9; John Nelson, 8; and Jacqueline Yeltema, six weeks old.

The only occupant of the one-family, cinder block house to escape was Edward Clark, 10. He fled through a window and suffered superficial burns and cuts.

Police said Mrs. Yeltema, mother of the dead infant; Mrs. Hall and Rita Clark were all children of Mrs. Nelson by a previous marriage.

Caused by Oil Burner

The fire apparently started in a room heated by an oil burner, state police said.

Six of the bodies, five adults and the infant, were found clustered around a doorway leading from a bedroom, police said, while the bodies of the younger children were found in two bedrooms.

Edward Nelson, husband of the dead woman, was asleep in a nearby house also owned by the couple, police said, and by the time he reached the scene, the interior of the building was a mass of flames. The frame roof of the building collapsed and partially buried the victims in flaming embers.

Police said there were two doors leading to the outside but the trapped victims converged on only one of them in their efforts to escape.

Clark told police he was awak-

FIRST SESSION ON U. S. SOIL BEGINS TODAY

Truman To Welcome Diplomats Assembling in Battle for Peace.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—With permanent peace as their goal and the split between America and Russia as their foremost worry, the delegates of 51 United Nations gathered today to hear President Truman open their first great assembly on American soil.

By plane, train and ship they have been arriving in this new "world capital" all week. Mr. Truman, with a 2,600-word speech in his brief case, was due in during the afternoon. Secretary of State Byrnes preceded him last night. But aides said Byrnes' only active part in today's round of opening ceremonies probably would be a brief, extemporaneous speech at a United Nations luncheon (1p. m. EST).

The luncheon is one of several affairs designed to make this a festive day in the history of the United Nations. But in the midst of the color and the confident welcoming speeches, most delegates privately expressed their concern over the tensions existing between the United States and Russia. Every major issue was being examined in that light—in the American delegation as well as in other official groups here.

To Support Byrnes

Against that background Mr. Truman had to speak and it was generally expected he would take the opportunity to support and emphasize the "patient but firm" foreign policy toward Russia laid down by Byrnes in his report to the nation last Friday on the Paris peace conference.

Mr. Truman was due at La-Guardia airfield from Washington about 3:40 p. m.—only 20 minutes before the scheduled opening of the general assembly in its shiny new—but perhaps temporary home—on New York's 1939-World's Fair grounds.

Foreign Minister Paul Henry Spaak of Belgium, assembly president, was slated to bring the session to order at 4 p. m.

New York officially was holding out the glad hand in the grand manner. It would like, officially, to have the United Nations settle down on the rolling green acres at the Flushing fair grounds. The permanent site problem, however, is one of the big issues ahead.

'Frisco Has Delegation

Headquarters are supposed to be established in Westchester county by a previous decision of the assembly at London. Many people of Westchester do not want homes and businesses displaced however, and San Francisco has a special delegation here seeking to switch the "world capital" to the West Coast.

Best estimates seem to be that for several years the assembly headquarters will continue to be at Flushing. The old New York city building of the World's Fair has been converted into a mammoth auditorium, resplendent with the UN colors of blue and gold, and this may be the focal point of the United Nations for some time to come.

The general assembly will get to work on its real tasks tomorrow, beginning five or six days of what the diplomats here call "general debate."

Attack Renewal Seen

This, too, will be speech-making—but mostly of a different sort. The speeches are expected to bring a renewal of small nation attacks on the power of the big five within the UN organization. And they will raise a whole range of issues—from international relief to dependent peoples—likely to spotlight the split between Russia and the United States.

In these controversies Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who arrived Monday, will lead the Russian delegation and former Senator Warren Austin will head the American group. Byrnes, planning to return to Washington tonight, is not slated to get into the international arguments coming up here until the council of foreign ministers (America, Russia, Britain and France) meets Nov. 4.

The delegation held a closed-door meeting late yesterday to [illegible]

Ohio Teachers' Pay Reported Lagging Behind Living Increase

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23—Teachers' salaries in Ohio lagged far behind the cost-of-living in their climbs toward today's record highs, the Ohio Education association declared today.

Salaries for Ohio's teachers have hopped from $1,600 to $2,010 in the last seven years—but the latter figure today will purchase only what a $1,270 salary in 1939 would have bought.

"Real pay," the association said, "has shrunk in buying power to approximately $330 a year less than in 1939."

Income taxes didn't worry Ohio teachers in 1939. Today, a teacher with one dependent has $151 withheld from the $2,010 average salary.

This, plus a 46 per cent hike in the cost of living as reported by the bureau of labor statistics, has plummeted the economic position of the teacher lower than it was before the war, OEA statisticians asserted.

This economic situation, the association said, ties in with the state's critical teacher shortage, and paves the way for the presentation to the electorate Nov. 5 of hundreds of school levies to improve teachers' salaries—twice as many as was presented last year.

Meantime, school officials point to 5,500 temporary certificates issued to persons who normally would not be qualified to teach Ohio children.

In addition an estimated 400 positions are unfilled in the state's schools.

Outlook for an adequate supply of adequately trained teaching personnel in the future is bleak, OEA said.

CHURCHILL ASSAILS RUSSIAN POLICIES

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 23—Winston Churchill today denounced Russian policies in what he called the "Communized Balkan bloc" and accused the Soviet Union of departing from many of the Big Three agreements reached at Yalta and elsewhere.

Both he and Prime Minister Attlee agreed that major powers had misused their veto authority in the United Nations security council. Attlee called for a view of its use so the council could "fulfill its original intention."

Freely admitting deep differences with Russia, Attlee declared:

"Nevertheless, we believe it is not only possible but essential for us to work together in order to prevent the calamity of another war."

Ohio Supreme Court Considers Evictions Because of Births

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24—The Ohio supreme court today heard arguments on the question of whether a landlord's taboo on children in an apartment is against public policy if a baby is born there.

The question was raised in Cleveland more than a year ago when the Lamont Building Co. sought to eject Marvin Court, an ex-GI, because his wife gave birth to a baby six months after they moved into the apartment. The rental contract barred children from the premises.

Both the Cuyahoga county common pleas and appellate courts held that Court could not be ejected because of the birth of the baby. The tribunals took the position that the rental provision

Marion Figures in Huge OPS Five-Year Expansion Program

Improvements to the generating plant of the Marion division of the Ohio Public Service Co. and a proposal for a right-of-way for a power line between Ashtabula and Marion were among the projects outlined last night in the company's $37,000,000 expansion program, according to The Associated Press today.

The program was announced last night in Cleveland by Ohio Public Service Co. President R. E. Burger, speaking to employes gathered at the Carter hotel for the company's twenty-fifth anniversary celebration.

Harold J. Grigsby, manager of the Marion division and a vice president of the company, said specific plans for the Marion division had not been discussed but that Marion was included in the company's five-year program.

150 from Marion Division

Mr. Grigsby, along with more than 150 employes of the Marion division, attended the celebration last night, leaving Marion by special train yesterday noon. Company employes from Richwood, Cardington, Delaware and Mt. Gilead joined the Marion delegation here before boarding the train and Crestline and Mansfield employes boarded the train at Mansfield.

Company President Burger said the additions were expected to take five years to complete. Principal units are to include:

Three additions to generating stations, one at Lorain, and two near Bellaire, and improvements to other generating plants at Warren, Marion and Mansfield. Cost of this was set at approximately $20,000,000.

Burger said the rest of the outlay would be for construction of new transmission lines and auxiliary facilities.

First effects of the program will be felt when the new 65,000-kilowatt generating station of the Burger plant near Bellaire goes into operation next May.

The other Bellaire unit, a 100,000-kilowatt capacity station, is scheduled for completion in 1949 or 1950.

A 65,000-kilowatt generating unit will be added to the Edgewater plant at Lorain with 1948 set as the date for its entering service.

Burger said an extra transmission line already was under construction between Bellaire and Alliance and the right-of-way

STEERS THE QUEEN OFF HER COURSE — There were those in diplomatic circles whose lot it has been to do battle with Russia's foreign minister, Vyacheslav M. Following Molotov's turn at the wheel, it was up to the ship's captain, Commodore Sir James Bisset, shown at left behind the diplomat, to bring the "queen" back two degrees.

College Coordinator Describes English Industrial System.

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 22—Impressions of England were given by R. R. Earhart, industrial coordinator of Fenn college, Cleveland, a former Galion teacher, when he spoke before the Galion Rotary club Monday night.

Earhart spent seven months in England. He was one of seven men selected by the U. S. government in July, 1945 to help establish the Warton American Technical school at Warton, England. This was a temporary school for the Army near Blackpool, England. He talked briefly on the British transportation system, and told of the machine shop system at the technical school.

Concerning British industry, Earhart said the machine tools were decades behind the times, but that the British spend more time in developing skill of workers than the United States. Owing to the great population, the smallness of the country, and its resources, the economic system is nearly hopeless, Earhart opined. In most respects the school system is far behind that of our country, although the British apprentice system is the best in the world, he said.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

After Operation

HOW long should you stay in bed after an illness?

Naturally, the answer to this depends on how sick you have been and on the type of sickness you have experienced. It can only be answered in detail by the doctor in charge, but in general, medical opinion today favors shorter periods of bed rest than in the past.

Of course when a patient is acutely ill, he is put to bed and, as long as he is really sick, there is usually no difficulty about keeping him there. On the other hand, there are many long-drawn-out disorders, which in the past were also thought to demand bed rest. Today, there is some question as to just how much good such prolonged rest in bed may do. Indeed, certain recent discoveries indicate that it may in some cases work harm.

Rest May Be Harmful

According to Dr. F. Kenneth Albrecht of Florida, prolonged rest in bed may produce a variety of changes in the body, many of which may actually be harmful, and which are similar to the changes that go on following a severe injury or the wasting of some prolonged disease. He says that rest in bed, if continued for three or four weeks, will reduce the volume of the circulating blood. It will cause the heart to beat more rapidly and may reduce the size of the heart. It also may interfere with the way the blood vessels adjust themselves to changes from a lying-down position to a sitting or standing position.

Studies of persons who have remained in bed for this length of time have shown certain changes in the electrocardiogram or electrical tracing of the heart beat which indicate less ability of the heart to adjust itself to changes of position.

Studies of the Blood

Studies of the blood have shown an increase in the formation of lactic acid during the following muscular work in patients who have had a long period of rest in bed. Other changes include lessened efficiency of the breathing organs, less strength in the muscles of the intestines, with the development of constipation, and lessened endurance for simple muscular work.

As a general rule, after three or four weeks of rest in bed, within the first few days out of bed these various changes in the body are overcome, at least to some extent. However, full restoration may require several weeks even when a physical training program is carried out.

All of this does not mean that bed rest should not be employed in the treatment of many disorders. But, in all cases, the exact amount of rest necessary must be determined by the physician. He can decide just how much rest is needed to aid in overcoming the illness without interfering with the functions of the body.

Scouts Here Show Gain in Members

Membership in Boy Scout Units of the Harding Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, is now at an all-time high, according to a report released today by Hugh F. Hay, Harding Area Scout Executive, and Loy D. Rhoades, Organization and Extension chairman. The comprehensive report on growth of Scout membership is being issued concurrent with the end of the Scout Council's fiscal year.

A total of 2,054 Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, and adult leaders are now enrolled in the four counties, Marion, Morrow, Crawford and Wyandot, which comprises the Harding Area Council. This figure shows a gain of 1,329 or 283 per cent over the 725 registered members at the end of the year 1942. Of the total, 1,010 are Scouts and Senior Scouts, 389 are Cub Scouts, and 655 are adult leaders.

The Harding Area Council leads the forty-two Area Councils of Region Four in percentage of Cub Packs. Also, in the Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky area which comprises Region Four, the Harding Area Council is first in percentage of registered troops, sixth in registered troops, sixth in number of active Troops, seventh in Scouts, seventh in new Scouts during the past year, eighth in Cub Scouts, and ninth in new troops during 1945-46. All figures are based on the population density of the area served.

RADIO EXECUTIVE CHARGES "ADVERTISING EXCESSES"

CBS Head Says Remedy Lies with Broadcasters.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 23—William S. Paley, chairman of the Columbia Broadcasting System, declared yesterday that radio broadcasting was "guilty of permitting advertising excesses."

"It is true that competition for economic survival has been very fierce in certain instances," Paley said. "But that does not excuse too high a percentage of commercial copy or material which is irritating, offensive, or in bad taste when projected into the homes of America."

Paley, in an address to the 24th annual convention of the National Association of Broacasters, asserted that radio stations and networks both are at fault, and added "it is not the advertiser's fault, but the broadcaster's."

The remedy for these practices, Paley told the convention, is an industry-wide code of standards, strongly supported and publicized by broadcasters, "a code which will prohibit practices which detract from the good name of radio as a whole."

WYANDOT CO. SOYBEAN HARVEST NOW UNDERWAY

Farmers Report Yields Very Due To Spotty Rainfall.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Oct. 23—Wyandot county farmers are in the midst of the soybean harvest. County Agent S. C. Cashman, farm managers, AAA committeemen, prominent farmers, and local elevator operators report the average yield, per acre varies greatly in different sections of the county, due to the spotty rainfall the past season. K. L. Streicher, manager of the Wyandot county Farm Bureau Co-op association reports, the quality of the soybeans fair but very weedy.

Employes at the local elevators report an average yield this year of between 13 and 18 bushels to the acre. One farmer, Ed. Huffman, living in the southeast section of Crane township give the average yield of 25 bushel an acre on his farm, which is considered an excellent yield for this year.

Kildeer, a section located in the Marseilles and Pitt township area raises more beans per acre, per section, than any place else in Ohio, farm leaders claim. This particular section raises beans only, with a few exceptions, but many crops there were a total failure this year. The fields were drenched by an eight inch rainfall in June and received no more rainfall until about two weeks ago, according to Robert Sweigard, county AAA secretary.

In Eden and Sycamore townships the yield is good, averaging about 20 bushels an acre. In the adjoining Crane township, ordinarily a good producing section, the yield is as low as eight to 10 bushel an acre. The rainfall was very low during the summer months in Crane township. Mifflin township farmers report an average of 20 bushels of soybeans to the acre.

Bucyrus Building Is Moved Nearly 1 Mile

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 23—One of the biggest building moving contracts undertaken in Bucyrus for many years was expected to be completed today with the moving of a two story frame house from the 400 block East Mansfield street to the Galion road, a distance of approximately a mile. The building, purchased by Harry Young from the Swan Rubber Co. at the site of the new addition to the plant, caused considerable difficulty along Walnut street as it was necessary to remove large tree limbs, street lights and power wires as the moving progressed. The moving was supervised by a Tiffin Moving Co. which also moved a number of buildings from the old army camp grounds at the fairgrounds recently.

OHIO POLITICOS COVER STATE

G. O. P. in Cleveland; Democrats in Southwest as Election Nears.

By The Associated Press

Ohio's leading Democratic candidates carried their campaign to southwestern Ohio, and the top of the Republican slate concentrated on Cleveland Tuesday night—just two weeks before the voters have final say.

In Hamilton, Gov. Lausche, seeking reelection on the Democratic ticket, promised to support a bonus to World War II veterans "through a bond issue without levying additional taxes."

Such a bonus, he declared, "could be paid in cash as soon as it is approved by the people, and the debt "in all probability will be retired over a period of 25 years."

Former Gov. John W. Bricker, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, asserted in a radio address at Cleveland that labor "no longer needs to lean on a benevolent government" and "must take its place beside industry, and, like industry, stand on its own feet."

Hits Wagner Labor Act

The Wagner labor act is unsound because "it was designed to prejudice industry and places management at a disadvantage in all matters of bargaining," Bricker declared.

Although the radical element in organized labor is carrying on a "campaign of villification" against him, Bricker declared, he defended in court or signed into law during his terms as attorney general and governor laws beneficial to labor.

Thomas J. Herbert, Republican gubernatorial nominee, in Cleveland speeches urged slum clearance programs in urban centers and called his opponent, Governor Lausche, inconsistent in two years ago "urging a reduction of the sales tax" and today, when tre state treasury surplus is larger, "opposing reduction."

In his speech at Hamilton, Governor Lausche said payment of the veterans' bonus could be accomplished without new taxes by using "three porsible sources of revenue" to retire bonds. These he listed as (1) sales tax "paid by the people which never reaches the treasury" and estimated at "about $7,000,000" annually; (2) revenues revealed by tax study to "be in excess of of costs of current obligations and other obligations which the state must assume;" and (3) an increase in the taxes on race tracks "to the level paid by race tracks in other states."

"Buying Election"

James W. Huffman, Democratic incumbent U. S. senator, charged that Republican opponents "are spending more freely than Governor Lausche and I can afford to spend" in "a deliberate attempt to buy the election."

In Columbus, Democratic Campaign Director Clarence H. Knisley issued a statement asserting that Louis J. Taber, former state director of agriculture, by inviting Ohio farmers to vote Republican asks them "to return to the days of bankrupt farms, one-cent sheriff sales and other devices of the Hoover depression."

THEY'LL SPEAK FOR U. S. ON WORLD'S FATE. The fate of the world literally lies in the hands of the eight persons shown here and their more than 500 fellow delegates at the United Nations assembly, which is convening in Flushing Meadows, N. Britain's "Top Cop" Hunts for Windsor Gems

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Writer

LONDON, Oct. 23—A dapper, thin-lipped Oxford graduate who looks more like a prosperous broker than a policeman is directing the international search for the stolen jewels of the Duchess of Windsor.

But Ronald Martin Howe, Britain's "top cop", is far from being the well-meaning amateur that a careless crook might take him for. He has investigated personally every kind of case from dockside slayings to Irish Republican Army bombings.

"He is one of the best-informed police experts in the country and, incidentally, about the best-dressed man at Scotland Yard," said a close associate. Howe himself, publicity-shy like most British law enforcement officers, does not give interviews.

Forty-eight years old and unmarried, Howe has been head of the Yard's criminal investigation department—at 1,750 pounds ($7,000) a year—since early last year, taking the job as Britain's greatest crime wave of the century was beginning.

Groomed for the job by his predecessor, Sir Norman Kendal, Howe knows at first hand the stamping grounds of international criminals—London's gaudy Mayfair, the dens of Paris, the less reputable parts of New York's east fifties.

He has chased in a squad-car, and captured, smash-and-grab bandits preying on London suburbs.

As deputy assistant commissioner he cleared his desk of papers and went looking for a Christmas Eve murderer in 1938. He got his man.

Studied in New York

Two years earlier he spent six weeks as a "pupil" of the New York police department. What impressed him most was the extensive use the Americans made of radio in catching crooks. Scotland Yard now has an intricate radio network of its own.

Howe holds an honors degree in Greek literature from Oxford and was a lawyer before he went into police work. His college career was interrupted by the First World War. He joined the army as soon as he was old enough and won the Military Cross in France.

Five feet ten, with dark, graying hair, Howe likes to relax by working in the garden behind the suburban home of his mother, with whom he lives, but the post-war wave of murders and robberies has given him little time for gardening.

Directed "Comb-Out"

He directed last February's comb-out of central London in which thousands of persons were stopped by squads of policemen and detectives and required to give an account of themselves. Sixty arrests were made in three days and fur and jewel thefts dropped sharply.

Scotland Yard men, some of them undoubtedly in disguises that would have startled Edgar Wallace, now circulate nightly in the after-hours "bottle clubs" of Mayfair, the cafes of foreign Soho and the hangouts of the blitzed but thriving east end, center of the black market.

It was easy enough to steal the duchess' jewels, the police say, but disposing of them will be something else again. Howe makes no promises but it will surprise the British public if he doesn't have a squad car waiting when the thieves attempt to sell them.

The granges for the contest are divided as follows: Bethlehem, Bowling Green, Mt. VA Aid Assigned Here Temporarily

Benefits of national service life insurance were pointed out today by Samuel Manning of North Robinson, contact representative at the Veterans Administration office here.

Mr. Manning, who is attached to the Mansfield office of VA, is temporarily assigned here while C. A. Sullivan, regular representative, is on leave of absence because of illness.

Mr. Manning expressed surprise that more veterans do not take advantage of government insurance. New regulations allow veterans to reinstate their service insurance no matter how long they have lapsed by payment of two monthly premiums and without a physical examination, providing application is made before Feb. 1, 1947. Endowment policies may now be obtained.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

THIS "FAST LIVING" AGE

Editor of The Star: I, too, was greatly impressed with "The Sermonette." I, also, believe the spirits that come through the neck of a bottle is just the opposite, in works, to the spirit that comes by way of "Our Redeemer."

The more one drinks, the harder it makes any redemption of our souls. I sincerely believe, "strong drink" is the devil's substitute for soul relief, temporarily. Man or woman becomes physically fatigued, by the fast living of this age and turn to the nearest cafe for something to relieve their nervous tension. While alcohol relieves temporarily, it tears down our bodies permanently. Not all are doctors or nurses who are aware of the facts.

I do hope you will reprint this little sketch concerning alcoholics by religiously interested people.

"About 900,000 of America's estimated 50,000,000 drinkers are confirmed alcoholics who cannot adjust themselves to reality and regularly escape into a dream world via alcohol. These chronic drunkards, say scientists of Yale University, should be treated as sick people—not scorned and thrown into jail. The story of the Yale Clinic Plan, and how it has spread in recent years to 12 American cities and nine states makes thought-provoking reading."

Volumes could be written on this subject but my time today is limited. I do wish to add, I also believe that the, "on the fence and indifferent" should cast off that "I can drink or leave it alone," attitude, and realize his or her "duty" to our nation and soon, "our world."

The women with small children going into cafes are women of all classes. Let's not let the "Spirit of God" die within ourselves, through lack of use.

We cannot serve God and Mammon. They also say the sale of alcohol brings in revenue. Yes! at the expense of a drunken world, and all the vice that goes with it.

Public Opinion Poll in Berlin

IN BERLIN'S first free municipal election in 14 years the two leading parties polled 71 per cent of the vote. A third party, backed by Russia, ended in third place. More than 83 per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls.

Under the circumstances of military rule, the outcome was less a political decision by the Berlin electorate than a significant finding in a public opinion poll. German politics can be only nominally free while foreign governments maintain troops in the country.

It is as a public opinion poll that the Berlin vote is being analyzed by officials at the scene. The political affairs chief of the United States military government's Berlin branch had said in advance that the issue as drawn in the pre-election campaign was between the political philosophy of Russia and that of the west, meaning the United States and Great Britain. The west won the decision.

It is becoming apparent that the Russian handicap in bidding for European favor for its political practices is the discrepancy between the theory of Communism and the practices of the Russian Communists. What many Europeans admitted as theory has proved to be something else in practice. Russia has had better luck selling the doctrine of Communism than it is having selling the administrative practices of Communists. The product does not come up to the sales prospectus.

Free Bargaining

ACCEPTANCE of arbitration by the independent union of power workers whose 27-day strike crippled Pittsburgh looks like an early turning point in the return to free collective bargaining.

The union's president says the decision to submit strike issues to arbitration and to go back to work pending the outcome was based on belief that the Wage Stabilization Board will pass out of existence before the arbitration panel's decision is reached. There then would be no possibility of government overriding the findings of arbitration.

In all wage rate negotiations for years, the government, through one or more of its executive agencies, has been a third party, with authority to make the final decision. Collective bargaining has been free in name only; the power of government veto always was a possibility. Consequently, it was more practical in many cases simply to pass along the decision to the government, which ultimately was going to make it anyway. Free bargaining languished. Delay and stalling were encouraged. Neither employers nor employes were free to reach settlements. In the recent marine strike, a settlement agreeable to employers and seamen was ruled out by WSB and a strike was the result. In the Pittsburgh power strike the mere prospect that WSB would go out of existence was enough to break a deadlock. All will not go smoothly with free collective bargaining restored, but things cannot go any less smoothly than they did when government had the privilege of being a dominant third party in every wage rate negotiation.

The Flight's The Thing

IT IS hard to understand how a mass flight of B-29's around the world could add or detract anything from the already known fact that long-distance aviation has changed the nature of warfare.

If the state department had wanted to avoid the impression that United States air power is feeling its oats, the time to have stepped in was before the flight from Tokyo to Washington a year ago last September of a C-54; or before the recent nonstop flights from Australia to Ohio and Honolulu to Cairo. The damage—or benefit, whichever it is—has been done. Most Americans believe it is benefit.

Entirely aside from the military implications of long-distance flight, coupled with the atomic bomb, are the flying implications. There is a vast difference between the heavy airplane and the battleship, traditional weapon used for demonstrations of military potency. The heavy, long-distance airplane is not limited in its usefulness to war. As the late Wendell Willkie preached, it is the means of achieving world-wide understanding through contact with formerly inaccessible populations.

If the state department feels the sting must be taken off a mass flight of B-29's, let the planes carry cargoes of American-made cigarets, soda pop, chocolate bars and some of the other symbols of our open-handedness.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Peace Problems Go Before United Nations Council.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—The headlines speak of peace as if it were around some corner somewhere, and might be discovered if we could find a way to it—although actually in distance, it is far off, vaguely unplaced, and is not yet discernible. The technique of the situation is this: the five peace treaties, still in dispute, are not on the agenda of the 52 nations meeting in assembly for their first real opening session today. This meeting is concerned with some admissions, a site, and routine organizational problems. What the session really means is that 31 more small nations, mostly those of Latin America (not in the war) are coming into the peace picture.

Now Mr. Byrnes, the state secretary, once said he would take his stalemated problem on the unfinished treaties to this whole world assembly of nations, if stalemate persists. Frankly he expects it to persist. His speech upon his return from the 21 nations in Paris (the nations in the war) was detected by close watchers to be somewhat pessimistic.

Byrnes Looks Chipper

Mr. Byrnes came back from the arduous session in Paris, looking chipper, younger in fact than when he left. But his speech was not chipper. He rather indicated between the lines he expected Russia would veto the idea of a free trading Danube, for instance—and how could he then go ahead and make a separate peace with Russia-dominated Rumania, for a free Danube. This veto he expected to be lodged at the coming New York session of the Big Four council of ministers, because Molotov did not listen to his radio speech, but sent underlings to hear the radio, and stood his ground presented at Paris. Mr. Byrnes had some hope Russia would realize the world did not like her way, and would change her position—but not much.

Even if she did, peace is yet far distant. The treaties would have to be ratified by our senate, after debate, and any moderation of principle would be interminably resisted. If Russia gave in, the treaties would hang fire perhaps a year. As matters stand, peace rests only with the "attitude" of Russia, and an attitude is an intangible factor. So peace actually is not around the next corner, or any corner yet in sight.

Some flurries of apprehension were noticed in certain naval quarters simultaneously with the Byrnes speech, and with the Russian move upon the Dardanelles (to say nothing of the unreasonable attitude of Tito). At least one naval authority has been suspecting a break might occur in the military (not diplomatic) situation at any time. Yet the continuing truth is Russia is in no condition for military action and would not be able to sustain more than a limited military campaign for a brief period. Military action is not expected.

Only New Development

The only new development tossed into assembly meeting, before it started, was the program laid down for foreign policy by the Federal Council of Churches. No official here rushed to comment upon it. The attitude of the Byrnes people around the state department has been that nothing should be said of a religious nature just now, certainly not involving any clerical hopes, as the recent movement for Christian solidarity has shown firm substance behind the Byrnes policy. Particularly few wished to question this new church advice, inasmuch as it set down the level-headed realities of the basic condition, namely: "Marxist Communism in its orthodox philosophy stands clearly opposed to Christianity. It is atheistic in its conception of ultimate reality and materialistic in its view of man and his destiny"—and the statement defended the necessity of maintaining man's "individual human personality." These words stood as a bulwark to the Byrnes policy.

Later on the program raised some question about our own free enterprise system and how long it will continue—recommending elimination of international intolerance, our own prejudices and practices which lead to tension, cooperation with Russia culturally, religiously and economically, and building up democracy. As these words seemed applicable almost entirely to Russia, in view of the vetoed peace condition and vague hopes, the part intended for us fell upon more or less otherwise busy ears here. You could hear comment that the first part of the statement seemed wisely written by someone like John Foster Dulles, who kows affairs while the latter part must have been composed by someont with more critical, unencouraged hope than the situation warrants.

Thus hope for relaxing tensions was largely assigned to Russia. The early advice that "tensions are unavoidable" was more in keeping with the official mind, as well as the suggestions of all three statements (Byrnes, church council and Vandenberg) that these tensions will continue a long time and we should get accustomed to them, as an adopted, although not wanted, state of international life. This was the true state of affairs.

The overwhelming viewpoint here was that Russia is brazenly bluffing diplomatically, that if one-tenth of her bluff is called in a firm and friendly way, she must yield to the common necessity for human existence in an atomic era.

What Do They Mean—Peace Conference?

The United Nations General Assembly meets today in New York.

The Paris preliminaries over, contestants have shifted to Manhattan for the main event.

Their sessions will be open to the public, and for free. This is unfair competition for Mike Jacobs, who would have to get $10 ringside for a card like that.

One has but to whisper "Trieste" to set off more action than at the last two Louis bouts.

I hope Assembly sessions will provide fewer conflicts than the Paris conference. The latter convented and adjourned on notes of harmony but the interim was solid discord.

Many fear moving deliberations from Paris to New York will make only for a change of scenery and not of schisms. Mr. Molotov being equipped with a portable veto.

Still, world diplomats can learn a lot in a city where hostilities having been mothballed far another winter, Giant and Dodger fans live together in a reasonable facsimile of peace.

YOU THINK YOU HAVE BUILDING TROUBLES?

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Oct. 23, 1936. While the non - intervention committee in London was holding a secret session to consider charges and counter-charges of neutrality breaches, Russia announced her virtual withdrawal from the European "hands off Spain" agreement, declaring she had definite proof three other participants in the agreement, Italy, Germany and Portugal, had aided Spain's insurgents with war materials.

A group of women who organized the Justenough club during their high school days at Prospect, held their annual reunion at the home of Mrs. Agnes Dill Harmon at Prospect. Present were Mrs. Shirley Roberts Gast of Monrovia, Calif., Mrs. Lillian Henry Griffith and Mrs. Blanche Henry Houtz of Marion, Mrs. Ottice Temple Sivey, Miss Leda Moore, Mrs. Lulu Lavender Neimeyer and Mrs. Mabel Fleming Merchant of Prospect.

Mrs. Caroline Kinley, mother of Mrs. J. F. Neidhart, suffered a fatal attack of apoplexy while returning to her home in Upper Sandusky after visiting at the Neidhart home here.

Harding High's North Central Ohio league hopes faded with a 12 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Ashland High school gridders under the floodlights at Harding stadium. A crowd estimated at 1,800 witnessed the game.

Marion women representing the P.-T. A. units returned from Toledo where they attended the annual state convention. Among those attending were Mrs Walter A. Shealy, president of the City council, Mrs. A. L. Kelly, Mrs. Charles Stephenson, Mrs. Opie Dunn, Mrs. LeRoy Malo, Mrs. Gladys Arter, Mrs. Fred Artz, Mrs. O. B. Christ, Mrs. Thomas D. Bain, Mrs. Herman Heisler, Mrs. Harold Grigsby, Mrs. J. B. Swain and Mrs S. L. Anderson.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Oct. 23, 1926. Queen Marie of Rumania, a visitor in the United States, contracted a throat ailment as the result of a cold and she was placed under the care of a specialist in her suite in a New York hotel.

Marion's school enrollment for September averaged 5,882, an increase of 344 over the enrollment at the close of school in the spring. Supt. Jesse H. Mason announced.

It was announced that first steps had been taken preliminary to construction of Marion's water softening plant.

A message received from the war department at Washington reported that Capt. John W. Mason of D company, Marion, held the world's army record for marksmanship with a .45 caliber revolver. The report said he had established the record at Camp Perry.

Miss Lillian Malo and Miss Kathryn Julian entertained a company of friends at a Halloween party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Malo of East Farming street.

Byrnes Plants Old Glory

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—The James F. Byrnes who returned from Paris to report to the nation Friday night is not the ailing and exhausted man some have expected. On the contrary, the ordeal of Paris has left him brisk, cheerful and reasonably well satisfied. He recognizes as well as his perfectionist critics the numerous defects and incompleteness in the work of the peace conference. But he also knows, by the hardest kind of hard experience, that perfection is an unattainable ideal in peace-making with the Soviet Union at the table.

He has, moreover, solid reasons for his reasonable satisfaction, which by no means appear in the draft texts of the proposed peace treaties. Perhaps the most important of these is reported to have been picturesquely expressed by Byrnes himself in the remark that "we planted Old Glory where she will do the most good."

By this, of course, Byrnes emphatically did not mean to imply any of the dark imperialist intentions read into American policy by such thinkers as Henry A. Wallace. His meaning was, rather, that by going down into the dust and sweat of the arena in Paris, and refusing to abandon the struggle until tangible results had been produced, the representatives of the United States have convinced the world of the continuity of American policy. They have shown in fact that we mean to bear our great share of responsibility for world peace and order and that we will not change our minds. Generalissimo Stalin and Marshal Tito are no doubt bitterly disappointed by this unexpected development. President Bidault and Foreign Minister Bevin must be relieved of a gnawing worry. But whatever their reactions, the leaders of other nations have now accepted this vital fact, and are no longer discounting the United States in forming their national policies.

A Gain

That, in itself, is an incalculable gain. It could not have been made by our taking the lead in the distasteful struggle at Paris. In itself, it almost compensates for the well known imperfection in the work of the peace conference. For as long as the great weight of this country is really felt in the international balance on the side of order and law, the trouble-breeding tendencies of some of the draft treaty clauses will be thereby counteracted.

Soviet policy until recently was squarely founded on the Kremlin's expectation of success in its still continuing efforts to induce an American withdrawal into isolationism. The British and European leaders were deeply and frankly fearful that the assistance and support of this country could not be permanently relied upon. The general abandonment of these fears and expectations is a really major change in the international political picture.

Nor has the change been without effect. On the contrary, both the state department and the foreign office are convinced that it has already caused an important revision in Soviet policy. At the beginning of the Paris meeting, there appeared to be no limit set to Soviet expansionist plans in Europe. While supporting Yugoslavia in the Trieste dispute, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, in the first phases, sought to avoid closing the door on Soviet penetration of Italy. Once the situation had been consolidated on one side of the Adriatic, it was clear that the intention was to try what could be done on the other. By the end of the meeting, however, all attempts to flirt with Italy had ended, and Andrei Vishinsky was talking briskly about the universality of Italian cowardice.

Soviet plans for Germany suffered an equally severe setback. As late as mid-August, the chief point of Soviet propaganda in Germany was the open promise that a Germany linked to the Soviet Union would be rewarded by return of part or all of the eastern lands secured for Poland at Potsdam by Generalissimo Stalin. Byrnes called this bluff in his Stuttgart speech, remarking that he, too, was open-minded about rectification of Germany's eastern frontier.

Immediate Effect

The immediate effects were to cause a partial upset in the elections in the Soviet zone of Germany, and to set off a storm in Poland. The storm in Poland was such that Molotov was smoked out, issuing a furious denunciation of Byrnes for even thinking about the very frontier changes which Soviet officials and Communist orators at Berlin had been freely promising for months. The Molotov statement, reassuring to the Poles, had the effect of a meat-ax planted in the neck of the Soviet-sponsored unity party in Germany.

Adding to these phenomena and certain less visible signs, the American and British policy-makers are now inclined to believe that the Soviets have greatly deferred all plans for further expansion in western Europe, and are concentrating on consolidating gains made already. This rule does not, of course, apply to Greece and Turkey. In the long run a Turkish crisis is still to be anticipated.

Meanwhile, in order to flank Turkey by installing another

Hidden Dividend in Grain

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

WASHINGTON — Nature has placed a hidden "dividend" in the 1946 grain and grass crop that promises tenderer and juicier beefsteaks earlier than would be possible with an ordinary crop.

Experts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture say this dividend is one of grain quality, an important factor in fattening beef.

The 1946 corn crop, now being harvested, is not only expected to be one of the largest in history, totaling around 3,374,000,000 bushels, but also one of the highest in quality.

The 1945 crop was large in quantity but one of the poorest in quality ever harvested in the United States. Department experts agree this was an important factor in the meat shortage early this year.

Corn is the crop used most widely to fatten cattle and produce the highest grades of beef. It takes time to do this, and normally the best corn-fed beef reaches the home tables in the spring.

But nature handed cattle consumers another ace to help them to a quick supply of good meat. This is an excellent grass and forage crop in western states.

Grass-fed cattle come to the market in the fall. This year's grass will produce good ones, the experts say.

Dr. Charles Burmeister, a department economist, says it has been estimated that the 3,018,410,000 bushels of corn produced last year was of such poor quality it was the equal of only 2,600,000,000 bushels of normal quality.

More Grain Needed

Many farmers estimated they had to feed from one-fourth to one-third more of 1945 corn to fatten an animal than they had to use in 1944.

"The corn was of poor quality because we had an early frost and wet weather," Dr. Burmeister said.

"The frost came before most of it was fatured. It had to be harvested in an immature stage. This means that it had less nutritional value. More of it had to be used to fatten fewer animals.

Normally a corn crop can be carried over to the following summer and used to fatten hogs and cattle. Experts said this year's carry-over was of such poor quality it began to mold early and had to be fed before warm weather arrived in the spring. Thus the shortage of food for livestock and poultry was aggravated.

Crop Already Made

"But this year the corn crop already is 'made,'" Dr. Burmeister says.

"'We already know that it is going to be of high quality and lots of it, because it matured before frost. And other weather conditions were favorable."

Among experts who agree with him are Dr. R. E. Davis, in charge of animal nutrition investigations; R. D. Jennings, economist, and Dr. C. D. Lowe, extension animal husbandman.

In addition to a record corn crop, of high quality, there is a near-record number of cattle in the United States. The total is around 79,000,000 head.

The pork situation isn't so bright because fewer pigs were raised this year.

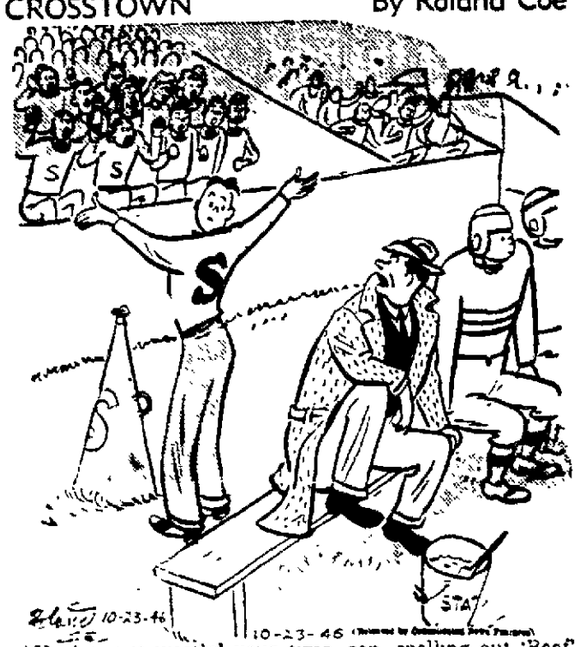

But from nature's standpoint the experts say the situation adds up to one of the most favorable beef prospects in the nation's history.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Elmer Twitchell to the President

DEAR President Truman: My hunch is that you are about to be yourself, drop some of your advisers, grab the ball and act as if you were a President, not the trustee for a previous President.

I got the idea from your recent radio talk to the sincerest part was where you said you were as sick of controls as anybody else. I think you are even sicker.

My feeling is that you are tired of being behind the eightball, especially when it is your own coaches who keep you behind it. The trouble with you, Harry, is that you are too good-natured, too easy on the backswing, and that you trust too much to friends, good luck. I will bet if you had a good talk with your mom right now back in Independence, she would ask you what ever became of that straight furrow and say, "Harry, grab those plowmandies yourself, and don't act like you didn't think the furrows were on a revolving platform!"

You are trying to please too many people instead of demonstrating that you are still a Missourian and have to be shown before you will try to back a Missouri mule through a barn-house door. Even assuming your predecessor was right on all counts, you are head man in your own right, not just a pinch hitter.

Plenty of mistakes were made in the 13 years before you got tapped for the sorority and it is not up to you to perpetuate the memory. You are a head man, not a headstone.

All the time I was listening to your explanations on lifting controls, I got the idea you wanted a good hunk of steak as much as anybody else did, and that the one thing you didn't want was to stand for was the idea that you alone had been responsible for horsemeat in the pot. Missouri boys never cared much for fish, you thought chicken on Sunday was pretty near enough, and Missouri history does not show a baloney, canned tongue or hot dog background anywhere.

I couldn't blame you for trying to blame it all on the Republicans, under the circumstances, even if you didn't sound any too convincing on that angle. But what I am getting at is that you can't go on blaming them forever for everything. The public may not be smart, but it knows which party has had charge of the White House for a good part of a generation, and it knows you can't blame the guy who hasn't been at bat for a failure to advance runners.

I am not a Republican and not a Democrat. I am just a guy who looks at the line-up every so often, sizes up the players and decides which side to back. But I like you in a way, and don't like to see anybody stay in a hole dug by others. What you should do is to drop the controls on yourself. Decontrol the Democratic party. Forget the idea there are Roosevelt ceilings over you. Let's get a look at you as Harry Truman, Missouri boy, a soldier, a pretty good plowman and a man who steers his own show.

Be the man behind the plow, not the man behind the eightball.

Yours,
Elmer Twitchell

No two ways about it, just being alive at a time like this is an education. All you have to do is keep your eyes and ears open.

For example, soap. Possibly you had to fuddy-duddy notion soap was necessary to keep things clean, including people. But comes a soap shortage and none other than the U. S. Public Health Service says pooh, pooh, cleanliness can be overdone, don't bother about soap.

Butter? It's stuff people used to put on bread. In the olden days they even used to cook with it, the dirty reactionaries. Then came the margarine era, known as the margarine era. Then came the fumblers, and then there was banana oil.

Modesty? No young girl or old lady complete without a little modesty. In case you find that skirt a little short for sitting in football stadium, living rooms, or any place but your own bedroom, lady, quit squawking and sew on some more lace fringe. The government says it's long enough, understand?

Shoes? Baby needs new ones. Explain to baby in words of one syllable that due to circumstances beyond papa's control they are not making new shoes in baby's size this year and that he thinks that's a pain in his whatnot they may not be making shoes in anybody's sixe next year, so shed-dup! Or hasn't baby heard there's a war on?

Milk? It's the stuff the kiddies love. Have another glass of milk, kiddies, to make you big and strong. Ho, ho, you get big and strong wrassling with papa to get the milk away from him. A glass of milk at present prices is worth upward of 10 cents. You think papa is made maybe of diamonds or sumpin?

One egg or two, but think twice. Remember too many eggs and you break out with something called bankruptcy. What America needs is a half-size egg a hungry patriot can afford to eat for breakfast without feeling like a spendthrift.

Mass production. The secret of the high standard of living. A lot of men line up and the thing you know an automobile, a refrigerator, radio or something comes rolling off an assembly line. If they made the same thing any other way it would be too expensive and people couldn't buy it. So they make it by mass production, and it's still too expensive. Someone better start looking around for a new secret.

Yankee ingenuity. It never failed. It thought up wooden nutmegs, double features, singsong commercials and the overcrowded parking lot. Give it enough rope and it will think up a way to do away with the myth that the United States attained the world's highest standard of living because it refused to be satisfied with anything less.

The United States—To carry on a crusade for democracy and economic development on a world-wide basis, cooperating with Russia and Britain where possible but in opposition to them where necessary; to avoid war, but also to establish bulwarks from which to fight the spread of Communism.

The small nations—To have their relations with the big nations judged without regard for military or economic strength, but on the basis of right.

Subject To Qualifications

This outline is of course subject to many qualifications. The United States is playing a far higher-pressured game of international politics than it suggests. The imperialism which Britain is trying to preserve is vastly changed in spirit since the days of the old trading companies. A good argument can be made that Russia, regardless of what one may think of her methods, is sincerely striving toward the betterment of man's living conditions. Some small nations, already trapped, like some men on relief during the depression, don't seem to be striving too hard for individualism.

But that is, in a general way, the situation as the nations gather. Now we may find whether those who have been fishing in troubled waters consider them fished out and a period of calm more desirable; whether there is to be atomic control or an armaments race; whether equal access to the world's goods can be established, or whether national pride and lists of possessions are to be preserved or expanded at the expense of casualty lists.

satellite regime at Athens, the Soviets and their Balkan puppets will no doubt keep up and increase their pressure on Greece. Fortunately both the Americans and British responsible for such decisions are beginning to realize that no stable structure can be built in Greece on the foundation of the rotten reactionary regime which a long series of accidents and grievous errors permitted to gain control there. It is hoped that the guerrilla and nerve warfare now being waged against Greece, and the nerve warfare against Turkey, can both be frustrated in the long run by a combination of constructive action, complete firmness and steady nerves.

All this, in turn, suggests the emergence of the first reasons for very tentative optimism. For if the Soviet leaders can once be induced to content themselves, even temporarily, with the status quo, it will become possible to try for a renewal of international cooperation on the basis of the status quo. It is not a very bright hope, but these are days for grasping at straws.

Altrusa Supports School Levy and Community Fund

A CONTRIBUTION of $10 was made to the Marion Community Foundation financial campaign and the proposed school levy was indorsed at the monthly business meeting of the Marion Altrusa club last evening at the home of Mrs. L. G. Jones of 441 Summit street. Other business included initiation of two new members and reports of the Fourth District conference held recently at Cincinnati.

E. E. Holt, superintendent of the Marion public schools, who appeared before the club on assignment from the Marion Civic Planning association, backers of the levy, presented the proposed levy which is to finance increases in the salaries of Marion teachers and employes and meet the rising costs of other school services. The need of maintaining a high standard in education not only at the present time but as a safeguard of future preservation of the American way of life was stressed by Mr. Holt. In Marion, as in other cities, he explained, teachers are leaving the profession to go into other fields, because of the higher salaries paid. While it works a hardship on the educational system of any city, it is, after all, only good business on the part of a man who is interested in the welfare of his home and family and the woman who is looking to her own future, he pointed out.

Miss Irene Tinklepaugh, superintendent of the Marion City hospital, and Mrs. Virginia Feaver, executive secretary of the Girl Scouts, were initiated. Mrs. Ruth Wiant, president and Miss Lillian Black, membership chairman, presided for the initiatory work. Reports of the conference were given by Mrs. Wiant and Miss Mary Florence Schuler.

A social hour followed the business session and refreshments were served by Mrs. Jones assisted by Miss Ruth Turner and Miss Edna Dutton, assistant hostesses.

let's quit being gluttons for punishment

The harvest of 14 years of government by decree — by half truths, broken promises and secret agreements — is here. Continued shortages of everything — rising costs of living — a depreciated currency — high taxes — the biggest public debt of all time — confusion at home — loss of respect abroad.

Responsibility for these things points straight at the wild political theorists and power-hungry bureaucrats now in office. Yet they continue to cry only for more controls and always more public money to spend.

we can get rid of the present muddle

Government meddling and fallacies are not necessary. Shortages are not necessary. Stoppages of production are not necessary. Sacrifice of personal liberty is not necessary. Your vote gives you the power to halt this joy ride to ruin. Use it to elect men who will start right now cleaning out the New Deal bureaucratic mess and restoring free opportunity to all

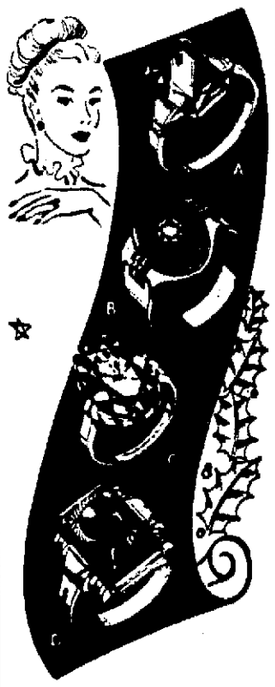

Put your mark under the Republican eagle on your ballot. Elect Thomas J. Herbert as Governor of Ohio, together with an entire Republican state administration and Legislature. Send John W. Bricker to the United States Senate, together with every other Ohio Republican candidate for Congress. Talk up—vote straight—and the job will be done.

"ENSLAVING" LOANS VETOED BY BYRNES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—Secretary of State Byrnes indicated yesterday that the United States will not extend credits to countries which might regard such credits as enslaving them economically.

Byrnes told a news conference, in answer to questions about cancellation of a $40,000,000 credit to Czechoslovakia, that this government will give preference in loans to:

1. Countries needing such loans.

2. Governments which are friendly to the United States.

Byrnes' mention of economic enslavement referred to a charge made at the Paris peace conference by Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky, which was applauded by delegates from Czechoslovakia and other eastern European countries.

Vishinsky accused this country of practicing "dollar diplomacy," and of attempting to enslave eastern European countries through loans.

In answer to a direct question Byrnes maintained that the state department does not have a general policy of denying aid to countries alleged to be within the Russian sphere while granting it to nations which have supported American objectives in international conferences.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 23—Charles H. Hazlett, 12-year-old schoolboy, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter in the accidental shooting of a playmate, Michael Gerich.

Charges of murder and voluntary manslaughter against the lad were dropped.

When arrested, he told police he and Michael were playing with a rifle in the Hazlett home last New Year's eve.

"Michael asked me to shoot him as if he were a jailbird, or something," Charles told police. "I didn't know the gun was loaded."

You Owe your fair share of the cost of making Marion a better city in which to live. Court records prove juvenile delinquency increases whenever the means for the right kind of recreational and social activities are not available.

You Owe the national agencies --- the USO and the United Seaman's Service---a helping hand in their efforts to follow through with programs for the boys still in service.

You Owe it to yourself to meet your fair share of the cost of community responsibilities. These deserving agencies must depend on your generosity to continue their work.

Prexies Set for Traditional Tilt with Ashland A's

27th Consecutive Meeting of Teams Booked for Tomorrow

By GEORGE BOEST

Since 1919 when Marion broke a 13 to 13 deadlock in the final quarter to win 20 to 13 over Ashland, the two schools have been playing football of the nip and tuck variety. Thursday night's contest at the stadium will be the twenty-seventh time the schools have clashed since then.

The chronological record of the engagements since that time shows that in the next contest the schools played to a scoreless tie. Marion won 20 to 7 in 1921, and in 1922 Ashland gained its first win over the locals 27 to 14. In 1923 Marion won 35 to 6 and in 1924 Marion gained another victory 31 to 0. Ashland in 1925 and 1926 came out on top 26 to 9 and 20 to 7. Marion won 19 to 6 and 31 to 7 in 1927 and 1928 after which Ashland registered victories for the next eight years. In 1929, 20 to 0, in 1930, 7 to 0, in 1931, 26 to 6, in 1932, 14 to 6, in 1933 37 to 7, in 1934, 33 to 0 in 1935, 18 to 6, and in 1936 Ashland won for the last time, 12 to 0.

Tied in '37

In 1937 the schools played to an even 6 up and since then Marion has left the field victorious seven times, having a tie to keep their consecutive victory record below that of the A's.

Harding won in 1938, 30 to 0, in 1939, 13 to 9, in 1940, 12 to 6, in 1941, 12 to 0, in 1942, 14 to 13, in 1943 the teams tied 0 to 0, and since then Harding has won 6 to 0 and 14 to 12.

Ashland will come to Marion after having lost but one game in its season. This was to Fremont Ross which still is unbeaten this year. Teams the A's have beaten are Willard, 12 to 0 Tiffin Columbian 33 to 7 Sandusky, 12 to 8, Shelby, 18 to 0, and Wooster, 14 to 7.

In the game with Tiffin Columbian although making only four first downs, Ashland scored four of their five touchdowns on runs averaging from 44 to 88 yards.

Have Seat Back

The team's fireball seat back is Norman Firebaugh who, against Shelby, carried the ball 20 times for a total of 184 yards. Against Wooster last week he gained only 58 yards, however. While the Generals were concentrating upon bottling him up, substitute halfback Mike Glasser provided for Ashland the punch needed to win.

Firebaugh plays right half, runs equally well to the right or left and handles the punting for the A's. His punting average last week was boosted by a boot of 60 yards. Quarterback Bob Harpster handles the passing for the A's and 155-pound left end Carl Stine along with 180-pound Gerald Mercer is a standout on the line.

There will be meat aplenty on the Ashland line although the backs are middleweights. From tackle to tackle the A's line averages 198 pounds and adding the ends brings the average down to 185. This means that from tackle to tackle they will outweigh the locals 17 pounds to a man and the complete seven men composing the forward wall will outweigh the Prexy line 11 pounds to a player.

The backs average only 156. In that department, Harding has an advantage of 11 pounds per person. Backfield weights should have very little to do with the figuring of relative strengths of a football team because ball toters are judged by ground covered not by what their meals have done for them.

A's Look Impressive

On the basis of this, the impressive might of the A's as compared with the locals' record and performances this season make it seem that Ashland is coming to a picnic rather than to a football game. True they have it over Harding in every respect apparently but their opponents in other games haven't been in the same class as Harding and the only team they have played which is on the Prexy agenda is Sandusky.

Sandusky, which has not won yet this season, gave the A's a good scrap, losing 12 to 8. The Sandusky team, according to Loren Tibbals, sports editor of the Ashland Times Gazette, is very much underrated by the experts.

Upset Seen

However, if a team like Sandusky, which lost to Mansfield by a much greater score than the Prexies, can hold Ashland, Harding can score an upset. Comparative scores against a single team are no basis for picking a winner, however.

Harding is working out harder this week in practice than ever before in the season. The coaches are literally attempting to drive football knowledge into the players. One of the senior grid men who has been playing on junior high school and high school teams five years said after last Monday night's practice that it was the hardest he had ever been in.

Harding has not lost to the A's in the past decade and although this year Ashland will field the better team according to the season's record, anything can happen when tradition is involved. Maybe the spirit of seasons past will grasp the Prexies, giving them a victory and again maybe the weight and speed of Ashland will be too great for the Chief Executives to overcome. Harding has not known well since Barberton, however they will be more keyed up to win this one than any other of the season. The results tomorrow night will show a lot as to what sprint an acheive.

VERNON BEATEN 12-0 AT UPPER SANDUSKY

Playing an afternoon contest with Upper Sandusky yesterday in Upper, Vernon last 12 to 0. This was the first time this year that a junior high has played out of town and Vernon was handicapped by the fact that Greg Graham regular quarterback was out of the lineup along with Bob Runnert regular fullback. Kennell a reserve halfback, showed up well for the Vernon gridders when he replaced Smith. Smith was taken out with an injured knee.

The first half was fought on even terms both elevens threatening but failing to have the punch necessary to score.

Upper rallied in the third quarter to make both of their markers. The junior Rams reached the Vernon 10 on a long run around left end by Beidler, scoring on a pass Bennett to Koehler. Near the end of the period they tallied again when Lenhart intercepted a partially blocked pass from Zimmerman on the Marion 45, racing into the end zone for the score.

2 DANGEROUS SAFETY MEN FOUND BY POLL

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—Two of the most dangerous safety men in college football this season are George Clark of Duke and Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A and M., who have covered more ground in returning punts and kickoffs than any other players in the nation.

Statistics announced today by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau show that Clark has run back 11 punts for a total of 251 yards and Fenimore, a member of the 1945 All-America team, has carried eight kickoffs back a total of 213 yards.

Runner-up in the returning of punts is Ernie Johnsen of UCLA, who has lugged 12 of them back 211 yards, while Jack Hoover of Chattanooga, who has run back five for 191 yards, stands third in the matter of yardage and boasts the best average—38.2 yards per effort.

The longest punt return so far this season has been that of George Wamsley of Rice against Southwestern of Texas for 90 yards.

Armed Retired From Turf for This Year

By The Associated Press

CAMDEN, N. J. Oct. 23—Calumet Farm's Armed, whose comeback furnished one of the turf's great stories, has been retired for the rest of the year thereby erasing a hoped-for meeting between him and George D. Widener's Lucky Draw, the two highest winning geldings of the turf.

Trainer Ben Jones, announcing the retirement of Armed yesterday at Garden State Park, said "Armed is not himself."

Jones said he has been trying to get the gelding in shape for the $50,000 Trenton handicap at Garden State Park Saturday but the horse has refused to respond to his training methods.

Ladies To Take Over in Wrestling Matches

The female of the species will tangle on the Armory mat Thursday night. Matty Bell from Tulsa meets Evelyn Wall, a Texas gal.

The other 90-minute main go will pit Steve Nenoff against Jack Perry. A preliminary match is planned but no one has been signed as yet. The matches will start at 8:30 p. m.

TOMMY PHILLIPS TO SPARK OSU AIR WAR

Shifted to Quarterback Because of Passing Arm.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23—Tommy Phillips of Berea has one of the best passing arms on the Ohio State football team, and Coach Paul Bixler has decided it might be used to more advantage in the quarterback position.

So, in yesterday's long and hard practice for Saturday's game with Minnesota, Bixler shifted Phillips from left halfback to quarterback.

Ohio State needed passing in the hectic last quarter of the Purdue game, but Phillips was on the bench. Under the new alignment, Tommy won't displace Billy Doolittle or George Spencer, first and second string signal callers while Dick Palmer's injured ankle mends, but he will be available to go into the game at quarterback when a passing attack is needed.

Phillips played left halfback in high school, and on the 1942 Buckeye freshman team, but he worked in the quarterback spot during spring drills and ought to be able to make the changeover easily.

RAMBLERS SURPRISE HOCKEY CONFERENCE

By The Associated Press

One of the early surprises of the American Hockey league is the performance of Coach Lynn Patrick's New Haven Ramblers.

The Ramblers, who finished last in the circuit's Eastern section's league.

Composed of former and prospective members of the New York National Hockey league Rangers, the Ramblers have won three games while losing one and tying another.

The Ranger farm club defeated the St. Louis Flyers, 6-3, last night in the only game played in the circuit.

Three games are scheduled for tonight. The Providence Reds meet the Bisons at Buffalo, the last place Eastern division Philadelphia Rockets clash with the Bears at New Haven and the Western division pace-setting Cleveland Barons entertain the Springfield Indians.

MARYSVILLE AUTO RACES SET SUNDAY

The big car races which were announced in the Star for last Sunday will be run this Sunday at the Union County fairgrounds in Marysville.

Bob Simpson of Marion, who a week ago Sunday finished in third position behind Mike Salay and Red Bales, will be driving the Dreyer for Harold "Monk" McCurdy in the races. In the first Marysville sweepstakes he drove the McCurdy Riley. The Dreyer is reported to be the faster of the two but developed engine trouble in one of the qualifying heats.

McCurdy and Simpson plan to enter the Indianapolis Speedway race next spring with the Dreyer, and at present are working on ironing out some of the bugs that resulted in sleeving the engine down to 200 cubic inches.

Chuck Barker of Dayton, O. is another top notch driver entered in the races. Besides the hot shot drivers who placed ahead of Simpson in the first sweepstakes, Frank Luptow, Harry Roberty, and Harry King are entered.

Luptow posted the best time in preliminary heats at Marysville but developed engine trouble in the second lap of the feature and had to fall out losing his chance of finishing in the money. King who started third got mixed up with Bales and Luptow going through the fence early in the race.

The races promise to be thrillers Sunday. Time trials are carded for 12 and the first race will start promptly at 2:30 p. m.

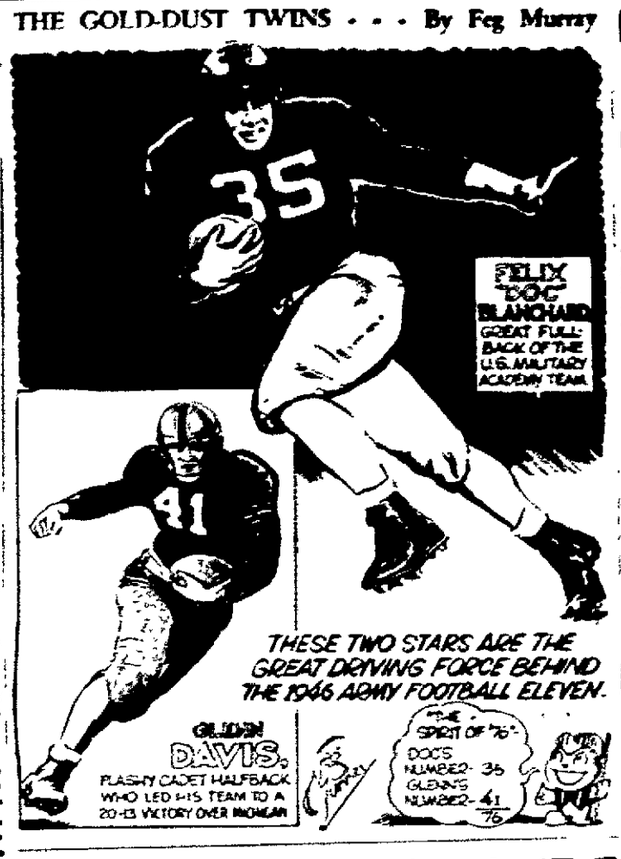

OSU Alumni Told Grid Team May Improve

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 23 — Jack Fullen, national secretary of the Ohio State university Alumni association, told Cleveland grads last night to not draw hasty conclusions about the Buckeye football team, reminding them the season was still young, and said the team's standing could be attributed to the fact the team's war veterans "were in the process of being adjusted to civil life and had not hit their stride."

Motion pictures of the Southern California game — Ohio's only victory — were shown. In three other starts the Bucks have tied two and lost one.

THE GOLD-DUST TWINS . . . By Feg Murray

Harding Jay Vees Absorb 47-7 Beating from Mansfield Squad

Harding's Jay Vee squad yesterday afternoon at the stadium suffered a 47 to 7 walloping at the hands of the Mansfield reserves. This was a return engagement between the two schools Mansfield having won the first contest several weeks ago 40 to 0.

Miller, left halfback for the Tyger reserves, was probably the player most instrumental in the large margin run up by the visitors. Besides scoring three of the touchdowns made by the Mansfield squad, he passed for two more and continuously was finding his receivers for long gains. On one drive down the field Miller completed four consecutive passes.

Mansfield scored on the third play of the game Miller going 46 yards for the tally. Corcoran made the conversion.

After the kickoff there was a comedy of fumbles at mid-field. Mansfield recovered a Jay Vee fumble on the Marion 48 and Drake recovered for Harding on the 49. Mansfield received a punt and Johnson recovered a fumble on the Marion 45.

Mansfield started their second TD drive on their own 33, cinching it with a pass Miller to Zeigler from the eight. Corcoran converted.

The next drive started in Marion territory on the 26 and Letizia went across from the four. Corcoran's first try was good but Mansfield was penalized to the 17 from which he could not convert.

Gregorio scored from the Marion 6. Corcoran converted.

Roest picked up 37 yards to the Tyger 25 on a reverse around the right end and Bishop went around left end to score. Phillians passed to Andrews for the point.

In the third quarter Miller passed to Hammond from the Marion 29 for a score. Corcoran's attempted conversion was no good.

Miller went six yards for the next score and Corcoran sent the ball between the uprights.

Miller scored in the last quarter from the seven. Taddeo converted.

Bantam Champion Out as Featherweight Pug

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23—In a toe-to-toe slugging match that left 10,000 spectators hoarse from cheering, world bantamweight champion Manuel Ortiz discovered last night that he's out of his class as a featherweight.

He dropped a unanimous 12-round decision to Carlos Chavez of Los Angeles, California featherweight titlist. The bantam king—an El Centro, Calif., rancher in his spare time—came in at 125, a pound less than Chavez. He had trouble all the way with his more rugged opponent's body blows, and was victim of a knockdown in the second round, although most ringsters thought he only slipped.

CLEVELAND BROWNS SET FOR PLAYOFF

Ready To Challenge National Grid Loop Winner.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 23 — If the National Football league lifts its self-imposed ban on post-season games, the Cleveland Browns of the infant All-America conference are ready to tangle with the best the older loop has to offer.

Coach Paul E. Brown, head of the local club, made that plain last night but said no formal challenge would be issued should the Clevelanders, winners of seven in a row, grab the gonfalon in the All-America.

Bert Bell, commissioner of the National league, said in New York, however, that post-season games were out of the question for his loop.

"Our season ends with the regular playoffs between the Eastern and Western division winners," Bell said. "The winner of that game is the only world champion we recognize."

Brown, in saying no formal challenge would be issued for a post-season series, declared the best way to bring about a playoff for football "World Series" would be to wait until public opinion demanded that method of settling the over-all championship.

Arthur B. "Mickey" McBride, owner of the Cleveland club, is red-hot in favor of a playoff with the National leaguers. He wants a three-game series with the first two games in the home towns of the competing clubs and the third, if necessary, on a neutral gridiron.

American Association Sets Annual Meeting

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23—The American association at an officers today announced that the baseball league's annual meeting will be held Dec. 1 at the Biltmore hotel, Los Angeles, Calif., three days before the yearly minor loop meetings begin.

Principal order of business is expected to be selection of a new president to succeed H. Roy Harney, who recently resigned to become general manager of the Pittsburgh team of the National league.

"Girl Wrestlers Here Thursday"

Two of the country's leading girl wrestlers will meet Thursday night at the Marion armory in a double main event card. They are Evelyn Wall of Texas and Mattie Bell of Tulsa, Okla. These girls are always crowd pleasers and give the fans a great run for their money. They will wrestle over the ninety minute route with the best two falls the winner.

The other ninety minute match should pack plenty of action for it pits together Steve Nenoff, the Bulgarian who upset Farmer Jones last week and Jack Terry the rough Englishman from London. Terry in his Marion match proved plenty rough and at once was a "heel" here. In there with Steve it might be a different story for the Bulgarian can take a lot of punishment and still hand it out.

A ten minute prelim will open the show at 8:30. Call Markert & Lewis Cigar Store for your best seats.—Adv.

Hearing Set for Rail Worker in Check Theft

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 23—The FBI said a hearing probably would be held today for a New York Central Railroad brakeman charged with stealing 194 payroll checks totaling $15,053 from the company's Toledo depot last May.

Identified by E. C. Richardson, special agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office, as Frank Anthony Mead, 46 of Elyria, the man was charged yesterday with violation of the theft from interstate shipment statute.

Richardson said 22 of the checks were recovered when Mead was arrested at Elyria and others totaling $2,359 had been cashed in Cincinnati, Columbus, Cleveland, Sandusky, Toledo and Elkhart, Ind. Still others had been destroyed, the agent said.

The theft occurred when the checks were moving through railroad channels in two envelopes, one from Detroit to Hobson, O., and the other from Detroit to Archbold, O.

Mead had been an extra brakeman for the line for the past three years.

Bucky Harris Signed As New Yank Manager, Rumor Says

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—Stanley "Bucky" Harris, a suave baseball diplomat, is the new manager of the New York Yankees—that is if the latest rumor is true.

Harris, appointed executive assistant to Larry MacPhail, Yankee president, a month ago, was said by the Daily News to have been "sold" on the post at a secret meeting yesterday. The News reported the confab was attended by Bucky, MacPhail, Will Harridge, president of the American league, and Charley Dressen, present Brooklyn coach, who the News said, had been named Harris' No. 1 aide.

MacPhail termed the story "pure cock and bull." He added he had not been outside his home for two days and that he hadn't seen Harridge for three weeks.

"I don't know who the Yankee manager is going to be," fumed Larry, "And if I did know now I wouldn't tell anybody."

Neither Harris, Harridge or Dressen was available for comment.

The News related that Harris, before the World Series, twice turned down the managerial post, but during the series games at Boston, confided to a close friend that if the job were offered to him again, he would accept.

"This (third) offer, obviously, came immediately after the series when Yankee executives met at French Lick, Ind.," the News asserted. "From there the scene shifted to yesterday's secretive meeting here, where final details were worked out—with the inclusion of Dressen as No. 1 aide."

The News asserted Harris was given a two-year contract at $40,000 per year and quoted a member of Dressen's family that "he will not be back with the Dodgers next year."

Legislature Okay Seen As Step Toward Ohio Turnpike System

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23 — A new Ohio turnpike committee agreed today that approval by the Ohio general assembly will be the first goal in its campaign to cross-cross the state with 1,000 miles of privately - financed superhighways that would pay off their $650,000,000 cost by toll charges.

Five toll roads, similar to the famed Pennsylvania turnpike would be built in three years under the program drawn by a group of 100 engineers, manufacturers, road contractors, trucks and union officials discussed in an organization meeting here yesterday.

Joseph Knoerle of Baltimore, Md., a member of the Gannett Co. consulting engineers on the Pennsylvania turnpike was the meeting's principal speaker.

"Now is the time for Ohio to get toll roads. I don't mean in years to come either. I mean in three years," he said, and explained that approval of the legislature must precede traffic surveys and other work preliminary to actual construction.

Dr. William P. Edmunds of Independence chairman of the committee, designated these proposed superhighways routes:

A northern route from east to west connecting with the Pennsylvania turnpike in the east and the Indiana state line to the west moving south of Youngstown, between Akron and Cleveland, between Lorain and Elyria, south of Sandusky and Toledo. Distance, 240 miles; cost, about $160,000,000.

A southern route from east to west, connecting with the Pennsylvania turnpike east and the Indiana state line west, stretching south of Columbus, between Springfield and Dayton, with a spur to Cincinnati and then to Indianapolis. Distance, roughly paralleling U. S. Route 40, 240 miles; cost, about $160,000,000.

A north-south route from Cleveland, through the Columbus area, to Cincinnati. Distance, about 240 miles, cost, $160,000,000.

Another from Erie, Pa., to the general direction of Cleveland connecting with the New York state turnpike. Distance, about 80 miles, cost about $50,000,000.

A fifth, south from Toledo near Findlay, Lima, Springfield, Dayton to Cincinnati. Distance, 200 miles, cost, about $130,000,000.

State Senator Ralph Winters of Lodi said that in seeking enabling legislation from the general assembly for establishment of a turnpike commission the committee "is not asking for tax money."

"The project will be paid by tolls," Winters added. "Through revenue bonds such a highway can be built and paid for without expense to the state."

Knoerle also stressed that "by letting the public pay for the road, the state can concentrate its highway appropriations on other roads." He declared that the road would be state property from the time it is built, and the committee would repay private capital borrowed for construction, with interest, from toll charges.

"The Polish government in no way represents the Polish nation. Conditions in Yugoslavia are sinister and melancholy. The wartime leader criticized both the United States and the British labor government for their treatment of Palestine.

He called on the United States to share some of the Palestine burdens, declaring:

"It is not fair that the United States should not share in the task and should reproach us for our obvious incapacity to cope with it."

Attlee opened the second day of the debate by discussing the veto.

"His majesty's government is certainly of the opinion that there should be a review of the use of the veto with a view to restraining it to its original intent," Attlee told the house of commons in the second day of a foreign affairs debate.

Winston Churchill, wartime prime minister, was to follow Attlee in speaking for the conservative opposition.

Attlee told the house:

"If we are to achieve a peaceful world, states of diverse character must be prepared to tolerate each other and work together."

Ship Bombing Called All-Around Mistake

By The Associated Press

GLENVIEW, Ill., Oct. 23—Rear Admiral E. C. Ewen reported yesterday that the bombing of a pleasure craft in Lake Erie Aug. 26 by navy planes on a routine practice mission "was caused by the combined mistakes of all parties concerned."

Ewen, chief of naval air reserve training, said an investigating board found that responsibility rested first with Lts. Robert J. Nykiel of Royal Oak Mich., and Joseph L. Miller of Jackson, Mich., of the Marine Corps reserve, for failing to positively identify their target.

The board found secondary responsibility rested with navy officials for inadequate briefing of the flight. It added that the boat's owner, Adolph Reisig of Toledo, O., also was responsible for "the mistake of cruising in a restricted area."

Admiral Ewen said he had recommended to the secretary of navy that Nykiel and Miller be reprimanded.

By The Associated Press

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA, Oct. 23—Co. Gen. Kurt Daleuge, the "butcher of Lidice," was hanged today in the courtyard of Pankras prison three hours after he was convicted of war crimes charges by a Czechoslovakia people's court.

A last minute attempt to smuggle poison into his cell was foiled. The poison was discovered in one of a dozen cigarettes sent to him.

Daleuge, Hitler's last "protector of Bohemia and Moravia," was accused of being the Nazi S.S. (Elite Guard) police chief who ordered the razing of the village of Lidice, the slaughter of all its men and the deportation of its women and children.

New York Telegraph Walkout Postponed

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—Joseph P. Selly president of the American Communications association (CIO), announced today that the threatened Western Union Telegraph strike had been postponed one week until Oct. 30.

Selly's announcement followed an appeal from Deputy Mayor Thomas L. J. Corcoran saying extension of the contract was necessary because any interruption of service was "unthinkable" while the city was host to the United Nations.

The strike of 7,000 Western Union employes, which would have cut off New York from virtually all telegraphic communication with the rest of the nation, had been scheduled for midnight tonight.

Every available south side ambulance rushed victims to eight hospitals. At least 100 other passengers received first aid treatment for minor cuts at the scene.

Motorman Blinded

Capt. John Ryan of Warren avenue police said that the motorman of the second train, who was seriously injured, was "undoubtedly" blinded by the dense fog which lay over most of the Chicago area this morning.

The motorman was George Petraites, about 30, Chicago. His right leg was crushed and firemen worked 15 minutes to extricate him from the cab.

Forrest Franks, conductor on the second train, and Louis J. Nesvig, motorman on the forward train, both reported that the rush hour crowding of passengers prevented more being injured. Nesvig said the cars were so packed that few people fell.

A strike of Chicago Motor Coach Co. bus drivers has diverted many bus riders to elevated trains.

NAZI ELECTION PLOT REVEALED

German Scheme To Defeat Roosevelt, Using John L. Lewis, Told.

By The Associated Press

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Oct. 23—O. John Rogge, special assistant to the U. S. attorney general, described what he termed a fantastic Nazi-backed "scheme" designed to influence the reelection of President Roosevelt in 1940 by having John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers (AFL), come out against him.

In an address delivered at Swarthmore college last night, Rogge said "this scheme involved Herman Goering, a Nazi agent by the name of Joachim Hertslet, and William R. Davis, a promoter of the oil business."

In Washington, Lewis declined to comment on Rogge's remarks. Davis, described by Rogge as a peace emissary for Goering in September, 1939, died Aug. 1, 1941, after a colorful career.

Other Attempts Made

The justice department official added that other attempts were made by the Nazis to prevent Roosevelt's reelection in 1936 and 1944. One included the establishment of an "America committee" in the German foreign office by Joachem von Ribbentrop, Nazi foreign minister recently hanged for war crimes.

Rogge said "the Nazis always preferred the one who opposed President Roosevelt. They preferred in turn Landon, Willkie, and Dewey. They had a strong preference for Dewey. They did not particularly like Willke, but they felt any President would be better for their purposes than President Roosevelt."

In Topeka, Kan., Landon said "the German-American Bund denounced me in 1936 as being pro-Semitic. That doesn't sound to me as if the Nazis wanted me to be President."

Dewey withheld comment.

Goering Quoted

Rogge based his statements on information gathered from captured Nazi documents and interviews with high German officials during more than a month abroad. He quoted Goering and Hertslet at length on the alleged Lewis-Davis tie-up in connection with the 1940 election. Hertslet recalled three conferences he said Davis had with Goering between Sept. 30 and Oct. 4, 1939.

The justice official said "Goering remembered his meetings with Davis" and "recalled that they had discussed Mexican oil and using the influence of John L. Lewis to defeat President Roosevelt for reelection in 1940."

Rogge declared "this is the substance of what he (Goering) had to say on these subjects: 'Davis talked to me about John L. Lewis and that one ought to reach an agreement with him. He was the one who was seeing me about oil business in Mexico. He told me that Lewis was not tied up with either of the two major parties but was a free lance as far as political decisions were concerned and was one of the few people who understood Germany's position.

"Friend of Lewis"

'He presented himself as a very good friend of John L. Lewis. He told me that Lewis was very influential, * * * and that he was very important for a positive attitude towards Germany. Davis told me that by the use of his influence on Lewis, he could influence the elections in such a manner so that the reelection of Roosevelt which, in his opinion, would mean war, would be prevented.'

The special assistant to the U. S. attorney general said Goering told him 'I would have spent $100,000,000 to $150,000,000' to influence the 1940 election.

Rogge said Hertslet, in recalling the Davis-Goering conversations, told him that Davis, during the course of the conferences at the outbreak of the European war, telephoned from Berlin to Lewis in the United States and reported to him."

Hertslet also was quoted as saying that Davis told the Nazi chiefs he was willing to put millions of his own money into the scheme to have Lewis help him defeat President Roosevelt, but added that he would need additional financial support from the Nazis."

Davis further stated, according to Hertslet, that 'in the event he was successful in having President Roosevelt defeated, he wanted to become secretary of state.'

Quoting a memorandum from then assistant Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle Jr., dated Sept. 15, 1939, Davis conferred with Roosevelt after the meeting had been arranged by Lewis and informed the President that he had been told by Goering that Goering wanted to make peace. The memorandum related that Davis said Goering wanted him to ascertain whether the President might act as arbitrator or help get some neutral nation to do so.

Couldn't Take Position

Berle's memorandum said that while the President was naturally desirous of obtaining any information on the situation he "pointed out that until some proposal reached him through some government he could not take any position."

Subsequently, Rogge added, Lewis called at the Berle residence on Oct. 23, 1939, and informed Berle the "time had come for a general peace and that he had seen Davis and understood that Davis had a message from high German officials which afforded such a possibility."

Rogge said Berle reiterated the President's stand that no suggestion be considered on peace negotiations unless it was received through recognized channels."

ened by flames shooting over his bed. Asleep in the room containing the heater, the youth said he had time only to break the window-pane and escape.

Calls Stepfather

Clark called his stepfather and Nelson's shouts awakened Bruce White, a neighbor, who summoned the fire department at 1:28 a. m.

In the absence of fire hydrants in the sparsely settled area, the firemen laid two lines of hose from the lake, about two blocks distant.

The bodies, badly charred, were removed six hours after discovery of the blaze.

Fire Marshal Paul P. O'Connell said that escape from the building through windows was virtually impossible because the openings, although wide enough, were too high from the floor to be reached without a ladder.

Ohio G.O.P. Newspaper Switches to Lausche

By The Associated Press

MEDINA, O., Oct. 23—Staunchly Republican for more than 100 years, the Medina County Gazette placed its support today behind a Democrat: Gov. Frank Lausche, who is seeking reelection.

In an editorial the paper said Lausche was "the type of public servant not often found among candidates for public office."

It added that the governor's "crowning attribute" was his "complete independence of political leaders and pressure groups."

LIVESTOCK RECEIPTS FALL TO WEEK'S LOW

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 23—With embargoes against further receipts of livestock at several of the nation's marketing centers, receipts of cattle today were down to their lowest point in a week and hogs were lower for the second day in succession. Sheep receipts were slightly higher than yesterday.

Early trading was slow until the rolling stock situation could be learned for the day.

At the 12 principal markets an estimated 47,800 hogs rolled in by truck and railroad compared with 70,800 yesterday, 99,295 a week ago, and 32,371 a year ago. Cattle numbered about 51,200 on sale today, 61,100 yesterday, 70,957 a week ago, and 62,337 a year ago. Sheep were up to 54,000 today, 49,300 yesterday, 63,575 last Wednesday, and 48,756 a year ago.

Denver, Colo., brought in most cattle for sale, 9,100, and sheep, 15,500, while Chicago led the hog markets with 8,000.

Meat was more plentiful—although prices in most instances remained high—at most of the country's butcher shops today as packers rounded up full crews to take care of the heavy arrivals of animals the last week.

Reflecting the removal of price controls, arrivals of meat animals in 20 of the country's largest stock yards the first two days this week were nearly double the total a week earlier. The lifting of price ceilings also was reflected in a report by the department of agriculture which showed meat production under federal inspection last week increased 134 per cent above the preceding week of controlled trading.

Although yesterday's receipts at most markets were not as large as on Monday, a total of 779,000 meat animals arrived at the 20 markets the first two days against 1,394,000 for the corresponding period a week ago when price ceilings were in effect.

Meat production output last week totaled 265 million pounds compared with 414 million pounds the preceding week.

Livestock sold yesterday at prices under last week's record levels, with best grades of beef steers showing the smallest decline. With the heavy influx of livestock, embargoes or partial embargoes were in effect at Sioux City, Ia., Kansas City, and Parsons, Kans. Shippers to Memphis, Tenn., and the old Union Stockyards at Spokane, Wash., were asked to withhold shipments. At Ogden, Utah, an embargo was lifted.

Although prices for many cuts at butcher shops remained far in excess of OPA ceiling prices, packer spokesmen have said there would be a gradual decline in prices as meat becomes more plentiful.

Maritime Settlement Chances Called "Bad"

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—A spokesman for striking members of the Masters, Mates and Pilots (AFL) said today as he entered a negotiating conference with east and gulf coast ship operators that "things look very bad" for a settlement of the 23-day-old strike of deck officers.

The spokesman, Capt. Albert E. Oliver, chairman of the union's negotiating committee, said the bone of contention was union membership for masters, and told reporters, "we'll tie up every ship in the world" unless operators capitulate to union demands.

He said if negotiations broke down union representatives would return to their locals and "take a vote on an all-out strike all over the country."

The operators have offered preferential hiring of mates and pilots but have balked at the inclusion of captains. The MMP also seeks a 30 per cent wage increase.

38 Killed, 45 Hurt In British Ship Explosions

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 23—John Dugdale, financial secretary to the Admiralty, announced today that 38 men were killed and 45 injured in explosions which damaged two British destroyers off the Albanian coast yesterday.

Dugdale told the house of commons the first vessel, the Saumarez, "was believed to have hit a mine." The other, the Volage, was damaged nearly two hours later while towing the Saumarez. He said "there was an explosion" which blew off her bow.

Both ships have arrived at Corfu. An Admiralty board is inquiring into the cause of the explosions, he said.

"I should explain that at the time of the accident, both ships were in the very center of the (mine) swept channel, which is one mile wide, and their position at the time was one and a half miles from the Albanian coast," Dugdale said.

Auto Sales Reported Off

Factory Purchases 56 Per Cent Less Than During 1941.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Oct. 23 — Factory sales of passenger automobiles during the first nine months of this year were 56 per cent less than for the same period of 1941, the Automobile Manufacturers association reported today.

The association said the factories sold 1,329,345 passenger units in the first three quarters of this year compared with 3,017,663 in the like period of 1941.

Included in this year's sales were 83,275 passenger vehicles shipped to foreign markets.

The sales during the January-to-September period this year were 621,226 compared with 804,321 in the same nine-month period of 1941. This year's sales included 121,113 in foreign markets.

Reporting a decline in factory sales in September from the post war peak of August this year, the car makers' association said an acutely unbalanced inventory in plants throughout the industry was responsible. Some items, it said, were in relatively plentiful supply while others were running from a few hours' supply to enough for a few days.

Factory sales of passenger cars in September were reported at 232,280 compared with 247,261 in August. September truck sales were listed at 96,475 compared with 98,948 in August.

OHIO COURT

against children in the apartment was against public policy.

Attorney Abner H. Goldman, representing the building company, contended the matter of public policy did not enter into the case, that a substantial provision of the contract had been violated and that the company was legally entitled to terminate the lease which was on a month-to-month basis.

The matter of OPA regulations, he insisted, did not enter into the case because they controlled only the rental price.

The decision of the lower courts, Goldman contended, was "a radical departure from the rule of tenancy which has been established in Ohio."

"It undermines private ownership of real estate and completely socializes the property," he said.

Attorney Morris Morgenstern, representing Court, relied solely on the decision of the lower courts upholding the rule against contracts being against public policy. His arguments consisted mainly of citation and the reading of court decisions which upheld the public policy rule and its application to various types of contracts.

The question of birth control, which might result from such a rental provision against children was injected into the case by Judge Edward C. Turner in questions asked Attorney Goldman. Goldman said such did not enter the present case.

The court took the case under advisement. Meanwhile Court continues to send his rent monthly to the building company by registered mail, but it is refused.

Expect Record Sale

MARYSVILLE—The old record of 1,180 sheep and lambs sold at the stockyards here is expected to be broken at the next pool to be held Oct. 31. The record, set at a pool last year, is only 130 more animals than sold at the last sale.

COLUMBUS TROLLEY STRIKE OFFERS MADE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23—The CIO Transport Workers Union today offered two proposals to the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. for ending immediately the city's 23-day-old streetcar and bus strike.

The union's suggestions to break the stalemate were:

1. That both parties request the U. S. department of labor to assign a technical expert to review findings of the citizens' committee, and that if the expert upholds the 14-cent pay increase the committee advocated or a greater increase in excess of that recommendation be accepted.

2. That both sides meet for a period no longer than 24 hours to agree on questions to be arbitrated and the method of arbitration and if no agreement can be reached let the citizens' committee decide issues for arbitration.

Acceptance of either plan by the company and a 12-cent-an-hour pay increase pending a final settlement would send some 650 bus and streetcar operators and maintenance service men back on their jobs immediately, John J. Ryan, international union representative, and Tom T. Moseley, president of the striking local, promised.

The citizens committee worked in vain all last week in an effort to restore transportation service but the union accepted the committee's recommendations, but the company rejected them.

The union originally asked for 37 contract concessions, including a 30-cent-an-hour pay increase and the closed shop.

pilots, and 115 planes remained grounded.

An American Airlines spokesman said the pilots are demanding a 30 per cent wage increase from their present average earnings of $9,477 a year.

Maritime Strike Goes On

The national maritime walkout continued as negotiators of the striking AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots union and ship operators resumed their talks. A union demand for inclusion of ship masters in a preferential hiring clause appeared the stumbling block to settlement on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the 23-day old work stoppage of deck officers. The MMP also have demanded a 30 per cent wage hike.

CIO Marine Engineers, whose leaders reached an agreement with the ship operators yesterday, were voting on ratification of the pact for ending their strike in the Eastern and Gulf coasts. Both the AFL and the CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Association expect to negotiate with west coast operators after settlement of the east and gulf coast areas.

N. Y. Acts in Walkout

In New York, city officials acted to halt a work stoppage by 7,000 Western Union employes which would cut off the nation's largest city from virtually all telegraphic communication with the rest of the country for the second time this year. The employes were on strike five weeks last winter.

The contract between the company and the CIO American Communications association expires at midnight tonight. A union official said the union demanded a new contract providing for a wage hike of 30 cents an hour and a union shop. The company has contended the union should postpone further demands until April 1.

In the motion picture AFL jurisdictional strike in Hollywood, the Screen Actors Guild invited 43 AFL unions to a meeting tomorrow night in an effort to end the 27-day dispute between the Conference of Studio Unions and International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes over the right to build film sets.

In New York City's 53-day strike by AFL truck drivers, the Railway Express Agency lifted an embargo on outbound shipments of express to the New England states as more railroad cars became available and trucking conditions improved as many individual operators accepted union terms. However, several hundred trucking firms were idle, with from 4,000 to 5,000 drivers on strike in the wage-hour dispute.

SCHOOL WINDOW BROKEN

Halloween pranksters at Meeker were believed today to be responsible for a broken window at the school building and for rubbish scattered on front porches of houses in the village. The sheriff's office reported one window in the school building was broken last night and green tomatoes had been thrown through it. Rubbish had been thrown on several front porches, sheriff's officers said.

Programs on the Air

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 — Apparently criticisms directed toward radio from numerous directions over how it conducts itself as an advertising medium have gotten under the skin; so much so that one network boss didn't mince words in condemning "excesses" and in offering a remedy. Another backed him up.

It was William S. Paley, chairman of the CBS board, who so outspokenly told the Chicago convention of the National Association of Broadcasters that it was no one's fault "but the broadcasters."

As he put it, there was "too high a percentage of commercial copy or material which is irritating, offensive, or in bad taste when projected into the homes of America."

Niles Trammell, NBC president, commented that "the elevation of advertising standards must keep pace with the growth of advertising volume," and that "constant vigilance must be exercised to control abuses."

As a "cure for questionable practices," Paley proposed "an industry-wide code of standards, strongly supported and strongly publicized by broadcasters." For, he added, "our real task is to earn and hold public confidence by deserving it, matching with our own responsibility the responsibility we ask of critics."

Murder Charge Filed in Death of Pastor

By The Associated Press

PIKEVILLE, Ky., Oct. 23 — Sheriff D. C. Moore said today a murder charge has been filed against Tilden May, 32, in the fatal shooting of a 76-year-old pastor who flung himself in front of his daughter to shield her.

Moore said Rev. William D. Stump, of McAndrews, died in Williamson, W. Va. hospital, shortly after the shooting two days ago.

Constable George Smith quoted Mrs. Lona Stump, widow of the Free Will Baptist clergyman, in this account:

May, a coal company employe at McAndrews, burst into the family home at dinner time, intoxicated and brandishing a pistol and a shotgun. A daughter, Annie, left the room, and he ordered her return.

When she entered, May opened fire, hitting the aged father who had quickly interposed his body between May and the girl.

District Court Upholds Delaware County Ruling

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Oct. 23—Protest by Powell residents against recent merger of the Hyatts, Orange and Powell school districts into Union school district received another setback in a Fifth District court of appeals decision upholding a Delaware county common pleas court action which dissolved an injunction restraining the newly appointed Union district school board.

The appeal was heard by the higher court at Mt. Vernon Oct. 16. County school officials said the appeal was expected to bring the litigation to a close although an appeal to the state supreme court was a possibility.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

KATIE was enumerating on her fingers the names of the people who were to sit down to the night supper, but at the name of "Mr. K.", she looked up alertly, and her eyes bored into mine as if they were the beady ones of a squirrel.

"Vot kind of name is dot?" she demanded. "Meester K'? Did dey leave oudt names vere he vuz born, dot he only got initial?"

Long experience with Katie's idiosyncracies, combined with my knowledge of the situation concerning help which confronts housewives, make me more lenient with her cheerful impudence than my mother-in-law approves. But I kenw the technique of changing her derisive attitude to one of worshipful awe.

"I do not know his name, Katie," I said. "My father probably knows it. But he is always called 'Mr. K.,' just as the man who was here the other night before I left, is called 'Mr. X.'"

Katie's face could not have been more illumined if she had seen a vision of the pearly gates.

"You mean," she stammered, "dot dees 'Meester K' ees a beeg detecatuff?"

"He's an F. B. I. man," I told her with apparent carelessness, "but remember, you are the only one otuside the family who knows it. I suppose the Brixtons suspect what he is, but they don't know anything for certain.

"Vell, dey nefer get anything out of me," she said, and I knew that she spoke the truth. "But, oh! Boy!" she breathed. "Do you tink he would look at my detecatuff diploma?"

Sense of Humor

With a remembrance of "Mr. K.'s" gorgeous sense of humor, I suppressed a grin as I made a quick affirmative reply to Katie's breathless query.

"I think he might," I said. "I'll ask him when there's an opportunity."

She caught my hand and covered it wth kisses.

"Ven you get to Heaven," she said, "you goin' have biggest rocking chair on porch, you so—o goot."

To my relief she immediately snapped back to her culinary problems.

"Vot you tink?" 'she asked. "Shall I put eggs on for dose five guards? Eferyting else is ready."

"I'll find out for you right away," I told her, starting for the door.

Places for Twelve

"Und I set table in dining room for twelve vile you gone," she said efficiently, as I closed the door, looked around the corridor to see if anyone had come down stairs, and then went directly to my father's suite in a detached wing which makes him absolutely independent of the household routine.

I did not have to knock, for which I was thankful. I do not like to interrupt my father. Even as I neared the door, it opened and Harry Underwood came out with Gus, Joe and the other three guards following him.

"Hello!" he said, but in muted tones, as he saw me. "Did you want to see the Chief?"

"Not if you can give me the information I want," I told him, and he turned a grandiloquent forefinger against his chest.

"The one who knows all the answers," he intoned, and I heard Gus chuckle.

"Father said five men were going back with the cars almost directly," I said, "and were to have supper before they left."

"Eminently correct in every particular," he said.

"Katie has everything in readiness except for frying eggs to go with the ham," I went on, "and she wants to know when to start frying."

"She may begin immediately," he said, "and continue until the last man chokes on the last yolk. I'm taking them down to wash up now. We'll be wherever the eggs are in five minutes. And did you say ham—the real stuff?"

"From our own porkers," I told him, smiling.

"I don't know whether I can wait for the second table or not," he said. "Come on boys! This way for the wash-up."
